A YEAR OF CYCLING CAPTURED IN IMAGES

UNE ANNÉE DE CYCLISME EN IMAGES

DEAR FRIENDS,

This year, the Union Cycliste Internationale (UCI) celebrated its 125th anniversary. On 14 April 1900, the Federation was born in Paris, driven by a passion for cycling and the visionary commitment of the founding National Federations of Belgium, France, Italy, Switzerland and the United States.

One hundred and twenty-five years later, that flame burns brighter than ever, as evidenced by the organisation of the 2025 UCI Road World Championships in Kigali, Rwanda, an event that lit up the cycling world.

This event marked a new milestone for our sport, as it was the first UCI World Championships in our flagship discipline to be held in Africa. All continents have now hosted the UCI Road World Championships, reflecting the universality, diversity and vitality of our sport.

The prominent place naturally given to the 2025 UCI Road World Championships in this year's Yearbook gives this beautiful album special historical value, and makes it a privileged witness to an unforgettable event that was an extraordinary success.

The book also pays tribute to all the disciplines of our sport – eleven in total today, including road, track, mountain bike, BMX Racing, BMX Freestyle, cyclo-cross, trials, indoor cycling, cycling e-sports, gravel and snow bike – as well as to their champions, who have continued to amaze us in countries and terrains around the world.

Thank you to all those who have been involved throughout the year, at all levels, in promoting and developing cycling, a sport which, while drawing on its rich history, continues to reinvent itself to continue inspiring the world.

David LAPPARTIENT

President of the Union Cycliste Internationale (UCI)
Member of the International Olympic Committee (IOC)

CHERS AMIS,

Cette année, l'Union Cycliste Internationale (UCI) célébrait son 125e anniversaire. Le 14 avril 1900, en effet, naissait à Paris une Fédération portée par la passion du cyclisme et l'engagement visionnaire des Fédérations Nationales fondatrices belge, française, italienne, suisse et des États-Unis.

Cent vingt-cinq ans plus tard, cette flamme brille plus fort que jamais, comme en témoigne l'organisation à Kigali, au Rwanda, des Championnats du Monde Route UCI 2025, un événement qui a illuminé la planète cycliste.

Cet événement a fait franchir à notre sport une nouvelle étape puisqu'il s'agissait des premiers Mondiaux UCI de notre discipline phare organisés en Afrique. Désormais, tous les continents ont accueilli les Championnats du Monde Route UCI, ce qui reflète l'universalité, la diversité et la vitalité de notre sport.

La grande place naturellement consacrée aux Championnats du Monde Route UCI 2025 dans notre Yearbook cette année confère à ce beau livre une valeur historique particulière en même temps que le statut de témoin privilégié d'une manifestation inoubliable qui a connu un succès tout à fait extraordinaire.

L'ouvrage rend également hommage à toutes les disciplines de notre sport – au nombre de onze aujourd'hui avec le cyclisme sur route et sur piste, le mountain bike, le BMX Racing, le BMX Freestyle, le cyclo-cross, le trial, le cyclisme en salle, le cyclisme esport, le gravel et le snow bike –, ainsi qu'à leurs championnes et à leurs champions, qui ont continué de nous émerveiller, dans tous les pays et sur tous les terrains du monde.

Merci à toutes celles et ceux qui se sont engagés tout au long de l'année, à tous les niveaux, pour faire vivre et pour développer le cyclisme, un sport qui, tout en se nourrissant de son histoire particulièrement riche, ne cesse de se réinventer pour toujours davantage inspirer le monde.

2025 UCI ROAD WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS: AFRICA AT THE HEART OF WORLD CYCLING

2025 will be remembered as the year Africa asserted itself more than ever as a major player in world cycling.

The continent had already seen some of its athletes shine in the biggest road races, such as Eritrea's Biniam Girmay, a former trainee at the UCI World Cycling Centre – our Federation's training and education centre –, and South Africa's Ashleigh Moolman Pasio. And every year, more top teams take part in events organised in Africa. But never before had the continent hosted the UCI Road World Championships – the UCI's flagship annual event – and the institution's Congress.

This dream became a reality in Kigali, Rwanda, from 21 to 28 September 2025. The organisation of these Championships on African soil completes a long process of globalising cycling that began in 1974 in Montreal (America), continued in 1990 in Utsunomiya (Asia) and then in 2010 in Melbourne and Geelong (Oceania).

The event generated tremendous mass popularity in Kigali. All along the race routes, dense and enthusiastic crowds cheered on the riders in an atmosphere of warm welcome. Rwanda's hilly landscapes, the quality of the organisation and the demanding courses provided an exceptional setting for spectacular competitions. Cycling has found a new horizon in Africa that is in keeping with the sport's universal appeal.

These Championships were among the most demanding ever contested: the Men Elite road race, for example, covered a total of 267.5 kilometres with 5,475 metres of elevation gain. A challenge worthy of the greatest. The champions did not disappoint: Tadej Pogačar (SLO) and Magdeleine Vallières Mill (CAN) won the road races, while Remco Evenepoel (BEL) and Marlen Reusser (SUI) triumphed in the individual time trials. These competitions, marked by the presence of the best and the discovery of new talent, helped write a memorable page in the history of cycling.

The next editions of the UCI Road World Championships will continue their journey across the continents: to Canada in 2026, France in 2027 – as part of the UCI Cycling World Championships bringing together the different disciplines – then to the United Arab Emirates in 2028.

By hosting the 2025 UCI Road World Championships, Africa demonstrated its ability to organise a world-class event and to thrill the entire cycling community. This is a decisive step, symbolising a promising future for the development of African and world cycling.

CHAMPIONNATS DU MONDE ROUTE UCI 2025 : L'AFRIQUE AU CŒUR DU CYCLISME MONDIAL

L'année 2025 restera comme celle où l'Afrique s'est affirmée plus que jamais comme un acteur majeur du cyclisme mondial.

Le continent avait déjà vu briller plusieurs de ses athlètes sur les plus grandes courses sur route, à l'image de l'Érythréen Biniam Girmay, ancien stagiaire du Centre Mondial du Cyclisme UCI – le centre d'entraînement et de formation de notre Fédération – ou de la Sud-Africaine Ashleigh Moolman Pasio. Et chaque année, de plus en plus d'équipes de premier plan participent aux épreuves organisées en Afrique. Mais jamais encore le continent n'avait accueilli les Championnats du Monde UCI de la discipline – l'événement annuel phare de l'UCI – et le Congrès de l'institution.

Ce rêve est devenu réalité à Kigali, au Rwanda, du 21 au 28 septembre 2025. L'organisation de ces Championnats sur le sol africain parachève un long mouvement d'universalisation du cyclisme amorcé en 1974 à Montréal (Amérique), poursuivi en 1990 à Utsunomiya (Asie) puis en 2010 à Melbourne et Geelong (Océanie).

À Kigali, le rendez-vous a suscité un immense engouement populaire. Tout au long des parcours, des foules enthousiastes ont porté les coureurs dans une atmosphère chaleureuse. Les paysages vallonnés du Rwanda, la qualité de l'organisation et des parcours exigeants ont offert un cadre exceptionnel à des compétitions spectaculaires. Le cyclisme a trouvé en Afrique un nouvel horizon à la hauteur de son universalité.

Ces Championnats comptent parmi les plus exigeants jamais disputés : la course en ligne des Hommes Élite, par exemple, totalisait 267,5 kilomètres pour 5'475 mètres de dénivelé positif ! Un défi à la mesure des plus grands. Les champions n'ont pas déçu : Tadej Pogačar (SLO) et Magdeleine Vallières Mill (CAN) se sont imposés dans les courses en ligne, tandis que Remco Evenepoel (BEL) et Marlen Reusser (SUI) ont triomphé dans les contre-la-montre. Ces compétitions, marquées par la présence des meilleurs et l'émergence de nouvelles figures, ont contribué à écrire une page mémorable de l'histoire du cyclisme.

Les prochaines éditions des Championnats du Monde Route UCI poursuivront leur voyage à travers les continents : au Canada en 2026, en France en 2027 – dans le cadre des Championnats du Monde de Cyclisme UCI rassemblant les différentes disciplines –, puis aux Émirats arabes unis en 2028.

En accueillant les Championnats du Monde Route UCI 2025, l'Afrique a démontré sa capacité à organiser un événement d'envergure mondiale et à faire vibrer toute la communauté cycliste. Une étape décisive, symbole d'un avenir prometteur pour le développement du cyclisme africain et mondial.
