STEPHEN STERN, GRETSCH® CUSTOM SHOP MASTER BUILDER

GRETSCH® HISTORY

Since 1883, when 27-year-old Friedrich Gretsch founded his little shop in Brooklyn, N.Y., making banjos, drums and tambourines, The Gretsch Company has grown to produce some of the world's greatest drums and guitars over the span of four generations.

With its emphasis on hand-craftsmanship and commitment to quality, Gretsch has pioneered new designs and manufacturing techniques, winning endorsements from some of the music industry's most respected artists, including Brian Setzer, Chet Atkins, Bono, Charlie Watts, Neil Young and Phil Collins.

Widely credited for nearly single-handedly resurrecting rockabilly and big-band music, Brian Setzer has torn through modern music like a one-man revival. Brandishing Gretsch® guitars with electrifying virtuosity, he returned scorching original-era rock 'n' roll to the top of the charts in the 1980s with the Stray Cats before embarking on a highly successful and acclaimed solo career at the helm of the relentlessly swinging Brian Setzer Orchestra.

The story of Gretsch® Guitars practically begins with the great Chet Atkins (1924-2001). The preeminent guitarist of his day, Atkins became a Gretsch guitars endorser and design consultant in the mid-1950s, and his name graced several of the company's most acclaimed and popular models. His worldwide esteem and influence are simply incalculable, and his musical legacy will likely endure forever.
