

Company Profile

Brad Gwinn — Chief Operations Officer

Brad Gwinn is StandardVision's Chief Operating Officer, where he oversees worldwide company operations, particularly focusing on media integration design, technology manufacturing and project execution. With the goal of successful architectural integration, Mr. Gwinn contributes to the creation of scalable solutions that are innovative and economically viable. Prior to joining StandardVision as a founding shareholder in 2006, Mr. Gwinn served as VP of Development for a Los Angeles-based real estate developer where he was responsible for the planning and execution of large scale projects valued at more than $500 million. His experience includes securing government approvals and entitlements, establishing finance and marketing strategies and managing design for over three million square feet of development. Mr. Gwinn graduated with a Bachelor of Architecture from the University of Southern California