THE FUTURE IS GREEN

— Join us to usher in a new era of sustainable exploration as we honour our commitment to protect wildlife and preserve the environment.

PROTECTING ARCTIC WILDLIFE

Hurtigruten is a participant in the Norwegian Polar Institute's project to register marine mammals in the Arctic. Gathering this data improves insight on habitat use and seasonal migration patterns and is used in The Environmental Monitoring of Svalbard.

AIDING IN RESEARCH

We contribute to real-time oil surveillance along the Norwegian coast. We also collaborate with scientific communities internationally, providing important knowledge and information about the Arctic and Antarctica.

BANNING SINGLE-USE PLASTIC

Plastic pollution is the single biggest threat to our oceans. Hurtigruten is the first cruise line in the world to ban all unnecessary single-use plastic. From July 2018, everything from straws to drinking glasses and plastic bags will be removed or replaced by environmentally friendly alternatives made of biodegradable paper and sustainable materials.

Sustainability is at the core of every part of the Hurtigruten operation and experience. CEO Daniel Skjeldam is personally engaged in the projects, such as removing single-use plastic.

PRESERVING OUR WATERS

Hurtigruten is actively advocating a ban on polluting and toxic heavy fuels (HFO) in all Arctic waters and along the entire Norwegian coast.

Fighting mass tourism in vulnerable areas is also an important part of the Hurtigruten philosophy. We support stricter regulations in pristine destinations, such as size limitations on cruise ships and restricting the number of guests allowed on shore.

LEADING THROUGH TECHNOLOGY

Innovation is at the heart of our tradition and culture, based on 125 years of exploration in some of the most challenging waters on Earth. With the introduction of the world's first hybrid powered expedition ships – and the conversion of up to nine existing ships to hybrid LNG-battery power – Hurtigruten sets a new standard for the next generation of adventure travel.

CLEANING OUR BEACHES

For years, Hurtigruten has worked to raise awareness of marine pollution as a major problem for the oceans. Engaging and involving our guests in different initiatives, such as beach clean-ups, is an important part of our fight.

Hurtigruten has established the Hurtigruten Foundation to ensure that our guests of tomorrow can enjoy the same meaningful travel experiences our guests do today. The Hurtigruten Foundation supports a number of projects, such as securing the polar bear population, fighting plastic and marine pollution, raising awareness and supporting local initiatives in the areas we explore. The Foundations is funded through on board activities and donations.

CARING COOPERATIONS

Hurtigruten believes in leading by example, and we encourage cooperation throughout the travel industry. Hurtigruten has been actively involved in establishing the Association of Arctic Expedition Cruise Operators (AECO), which oversees Arctic expedition cruising. Through the International Association of Antarctica Tour Operators (IAATO), Hurtigruten works to secure an environmentally aware tourism industry in the fragile environment of Antarctica.
