CYCLISME

A YEAR OF CYCLING CAPTURED IN IMAGES

UNE ANNÉE DE CYCLISME EN IMAGES

DEAR FRIENDS,

The past season was unquestionably marked by the success of the cycling events at the Paris 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games. It is therefore only natural that our Yearbook should give pride of place to this event that provided us with moments that will no doubt join other emblematic images of our sport in the history books.

As well as showcasing our Olympic disciplines, this year also saw the first edition of the UCI Snow Bike World Championships, demonstrating that cycling never stops evolving to embrace new territories, attract new audiences and establish itself more than ever as a year-round sport.

We can also celebrate the continued impressive growth of women’s cycling, particularly on the road. This development is the fruit of the joint determination of the UCI and its stakeholders, and I would like to thank them for their enthusiastic commitment.

Despite the very positive context in 2024, a dramatic episode nevertheless shook the cycling family: the loss of young Swiss athlete Muriel Furrer during the UCI Road and Para-cycling Road World Championships in Zurich, Switzerland. This tragedy reminds us that - like life - cycling, as magnificent as it is, can also take a dramatic turn. I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to Muriel, and promise that the UCI is working hard to provide even better protection for riders.

Our sights are now set on 2025, a year that will see another historic event with our UCI Road World Championships being held on the African continent for the first time. An extremely promising chapter not to be missed!

Member of the International Olympic Committee (IOC)

CHERS AMIS,

La saison écoulée a incontestablement été marquée par le succès des épreuves cyclistes lors des Jeux Olympiques et Paralympiques de Paris 2024. C’est donc naturellement que notre Yearbook fait une large place à un événement qui nous a offert quelques-uns des moments qui rejoindront sans aucun doute les images emblématiques de notre sport dans les pages des livres d’histoire.

Parallèlement à la mise en avant de nos disciplines olympiques, on retiendra aussi de cette année la première édition des Championnats du Monde Snow Bike UCI, une compétition qui démontre que le cyclisme ne cesse jamais d’évoluer pour embrasser de nouveaux territoires, attirer de nouveaux publics et devenir plus que jamais un sport quatre saisons.

On peut aussi se réjouir de la poursuite de l’essor impressionnant du cyclisme féminin, notamment sur la route. Ce développement est le fruit de la volonté commune de l’UCI et de ses parties prenantes, et je tiens à remercier ici ces dernières pour leur engagement enthousiaste.

Dans un contexte 2024 très positif, un épisode tragique a cependant profondément bouleversé la famille du cyclisme : la disparition de la jeune athlète suisse Muriel Furrer lors des Championnats du Monde Route et Route Paracyclisme UCI de Zurich, en Suisse. Cet accident nous rappelle qu’à l’image de la vie, le cyclisme, aussi magnifique soit-il, peut aussi parfois prendre un tour dramatique. Je voudrais rendre ici hommage à Muriel, et promet que l’UCI travaille d’arrache-pied pour toujours mieux protéger les coureurs.

Nos regards sont maintenant tournés vers 2025, une année qui connaîtra un nouvel événement historique avec la première édition de nos Mondiaux UCI de cyclisme sur route organisée sur le continent africain. Un chapitre extrêmement prometteur à ne pas manquer !

PARIS 2024 OLYMPIC AND PARALYMPIC GAMES: AN INCREDIBLE GLOBAL SHOWCASE FOR CYCLING

With five disciplines on the programme of the biggest sporting event on the planet - road and para-cycling road, track and para-cycling track, mountain bike, BMX Racing and BMX Freestyle - our sport shone like never before at the Paris 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games, held in and around the French capital from 26 July to 11 August and 28 August to 8 September respectively.

Among the many images that will live forever in people's memories are the road races passing in front of the most iconic monuments in Paris and the huge crowds - over a million spectators for the road races and almost as many for the time trials - cheering on the riders as they climbed to the Sacré-Coeur Basilica in Montmartre. We must also mention the double victory (men's road race and time trial) of Remco Evenepoel (BEL), and the gold medal for Kristen Faulkner (USA) in the women's road race the week after Grace Brown (AUS) won the women's time trial in her last year of competition. The spectacular BMX Freestyle events, held on the imposing Place de la Concorde with the Eiffel Tower in the background, will also leave an indelible mark on the minds of spectators impressed by the daring tricks performed by the stars of cycling's youngest Olympic discipline. The many world records broken during the track events held on the ultra-fast track at the Vélodrome National in Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines will also be remembered for a long time, as will the victories of Harrie Lavreysen, reinforcing his legendary status, and the French hat-trick achieved on the BMX Racing track located in the same sports complex. The crushing domination of France's Pauline-Ferrand-Prévot and the first place of the versatile Tom Pidcock on the hill of Élancourt marked the history of mountain bike, a discipline that brings nature within cycling's reach.

The Paris 2024 Paralympic Games were also an unprecedented success, on the track in Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines and on the roads of Clichy-sous-Bois. A sporting success, with exciting races and world records testifying to the growth of para-cycling; a popular success, with a large audience; and a media success, with high visibility on platforms around the world.

There's no doubt that the Los Angeles 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games will also help to promote our sport, just as our sport will light up the event!

JEUX OLYMPIQUES ET PARALYMPIQUES DE PARIS 2024 : UNE INCROYABLE VITRINE MONDIALE POUR LE CYCLISME

Avec cinq disciplines au programme du plus grand événement sportif de la planète – cyclisme et paracyclisme sur route, cyclisme et paracyclisme sur piste, mountain bike, BMX Racing et BMX Freestyle –, notre sport a brillé comme jamais lors des Jeux Olympiques et Paralympiques de Paris 2024, organisés dans la capitale française et ses alentours du 26 juillet au 11 août et du 28 août au 8 septembre respectivement.

Parmi la multitude d'images qui resteront à jamais gravées dans les mémoires, on mentionnera les courses sur route passant devant les monuments emblématiques de Paris et les foules immenses – plus d'un million de spectateurs pour les courses en ligne et presque autant pour les contre-la-montre – encourageant les coureurs dans la montée menant à la basilique du Sacré-Cœur de Montmartre. On peut aussi évoquer le double sacre (course en ligne et contre-la-montre) de Remco Evenepoel (BEL) et la victoire de Kristen Faulkner (USA) dans la course en ligne, une semaine après la première place décrochée par Grace Brown (AUS) dans le contre-la-montre féminin, dans sa dernière année de compétition. Disputées sur le site grandiose de la place de la Concorde avec la tour Eiffel en arrière-plan, les spectaculaires épreuves de BMX Freestyle laisseront elles aussi une trace indélébile dans les esprits de spectateurs impressionnés par les figures audacieuses réalisées par les stars de la plus jeune discipline cycliste olympique. On se souviendra longtemps également des nombreux records du monde battus lors des compétitions sur piste disputées sur la piste ultra-rapide d'un Vélodrome National de Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines plein à craquer chaque jour comme des victoires d'un Harrie Lavreysen entrant encore un peu plus dans la légende et du triplé français réalisé sur la piste de BMX Racing située dans le même complexe sportif. La domination écrasante de Pauline-Ferrand-Prévot (FRA) et la première place du polyvalent Tom Pidcock (GBR) sur la colline d'Élancourt ont quant à elles marqué l'histoire du mountain bike, une discipline qui met la nature à portée de vélo.

Les Jeux Paralympiques de Paris 2024 ont également rencontré un succès sans précédent, sur la piste de Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines et sur les routes de Clichy-sous-Bois. Succès sportif, avec des courses passionnantes et des records du monde témoignant de l'essor du paracyclisme, populaire, avec un public nombreux, et médiatique, avec une grande visibilité sur les plateformes du monde entier.

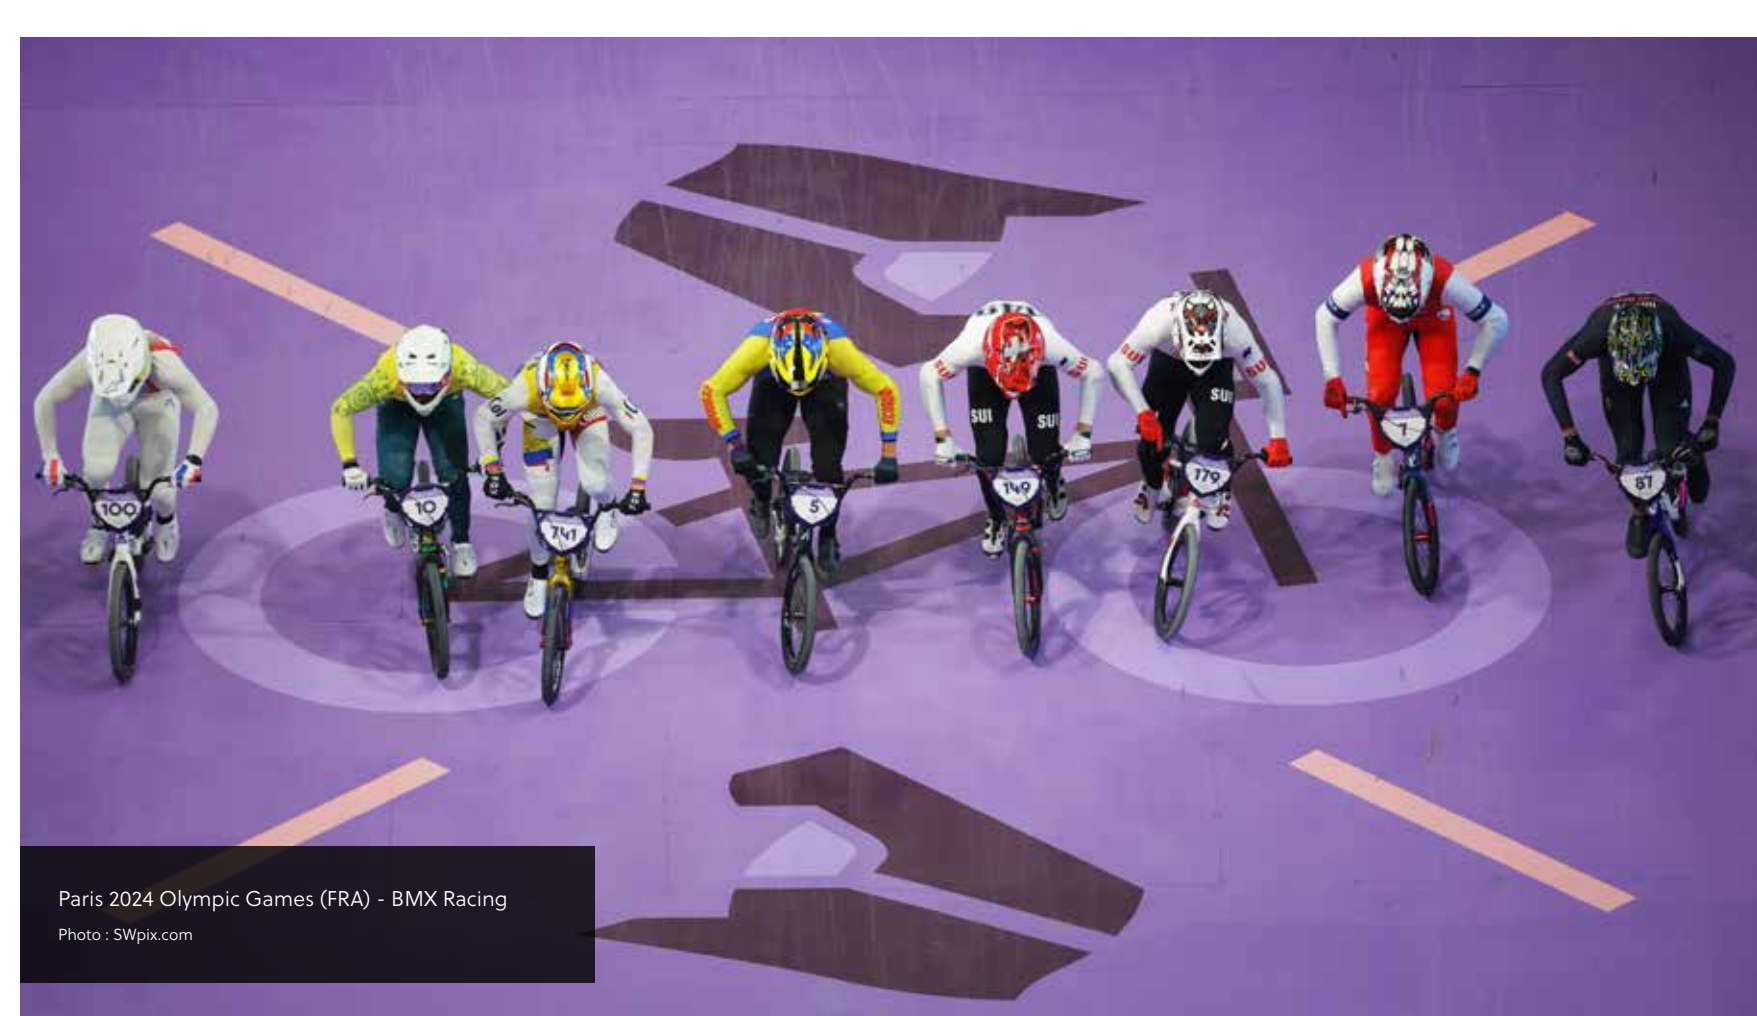

Nul doute que les Jeux Olympiques et Paralympiques de Los Angeles 2028 contribueront eux aussi à promouvoir notre sport comme celui-ci illuminera l'événement !
