

SUNRIDER®
The Art of Herbal Science®

COMPANY PROFILE

Entrepreneurial Virtuosity

Sunrider was founded by two entrepreneurs: Dr. Tei-Fu Chen, a world-renowned herbalist with a degree in pharmacy, and his wife, Dr. Oi-Lin Chen, a licensed medical doctor.

They started Sunrider from a small office in Utah in 1982, but their passion for herbs, nutrition, and perfection, along with their vocation to not only help others but also inspire them to live their best lives possible, led them to transform that small company into a worldwide success.

More than three decades after founding Sunrider, Drs. Chen's original mission of "improving the lifestyle and well-being of people around the world" remains as vibrant as ever. Now, together with their five children, they continue to build upon their tradition of offering the world's best products, a business opportunity that changes the present, and a legacy that shines a light on the future.

Self-Manufacturing

Self-manufacturing is an essential component of our success as it allows us to control every aspect of the processing phase. We give back to our communities

Sunrider's reaching out to help others will benefit people for generations to come. In 2013, Drs. Chen made a $2.5 million donation toward the construction of the Torrance Memorial Medical Center's Lundquist Tower, home of the ultramodern Chen Family Surgical Center.

It has been a proud tradition for Sunrider ABOs, IBOs, and staff alike to support charitable causes around the world. In 2017, the company played an active role spearheading global fundraising drives that provided humanitarian aid to those affected by the hurricanes Harvey, Irma, and Maria, helping people in Florida, Texas, and Puerto Rico.

The company's humanitarian aid has also reached those affected by the Nepal earthquake, Typhoon Haiyan, Hurricane Sandy, the Haiti earthquake, and the triple disasters that occurred in Japan.

Sunrider has also provided resources to global and local organizations like

UNICEF, the Gang Alternatives Program, and AIDS Walk LA in the past, as well as the American Cancer Society, Pediatric Therapy Network, Mentors International, and the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Together, we're making our communities cleaner, healthier, and happier places to live for present and future generations.

Sunrider donated $1.75 million to the Pediatric Exercise and Genomics Research Center (PERC) at UC Irvine School of Medicine to support childhood exercise training for physicians and educators.

The American Red Cross presented Sunrider International with this Appreciation Plaque for the company's fundraising campaign that raised US$100,000 for Nepal earthquake disaster relief.

Drs. Chen were personally thanked by Brigham Young University–Hawaii representatives and students for their ongoing scholarship sponsorship of over 600 students from China.

Drs. Chen received a plaque from Kaohsiung Medical University in appreciation of their donation to fund teaching and research at the university, of which Drs. Chen are distinguished alumni.

Sunrider was a major sponsor of AIDS Walk Los Angeles for eight consecutive years. This annual event has raised more than $82 million to date to further AIDS awareness.

Handled by food experts

Sunrider's owners are experts in the fields of health and science. They know when to harvest the herbs, which parts to use, and how to extract their nutrients in the most precise way. While most companies hire or outsource their research, procurement, and formulation procedures, Sunrider owners' expertise allows us to oversee every step of the manufacturing process, from product conceptualing to packaging.

Manufactured in-house

Sunrider currently owns six manufacturing facilities worldwide, which house the most advanced pharmaceutical-grade machinery available.

In 2008, we moved our primary research, development, and manufacturing operations to our state-of-the-art Los Angeles Manufacturing Plant. This nearly one million square foot facility is larger than the Los Angeles Coliseum and has space to meet the demands of Sunrider's expanding distribution network.

In 2009, a manufacturing plant was established in Greenville, Ohio, to bottle Sunrider's pure artesian drinking water, h2 Delight®, which is sourced from a nearby aquifer.

Committed to your well-being

Owning our chemistry and microbiology labs, as well as our manufacturing facilities, allows us to be in complete control of every aspect of the processing phase and helps ensure the integrity and exceptional quality of Sunrider® products. This is demonstrated by our Los Angeles Manufacturing Plant, which continues to exceed Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) requirements set by the Food & Drug Administration (FDA).
