IT'S TIME FOR OUR WINE PARTY – ENJOY!

Welcome to Laithwaites' 44th Wine Festival. Last year's Festival was named the UK's 'Best Drinks Event' by The Drinks Business – and we're bringing all that magic to our biggest-ever Festival in Manchester.

You'll find over 350 wines from 18 countries and many of the winemakers to tell you all about them. Enjoy some of your favourite wines, but also look out for exciting new ones including our discoveries from Ukraine (who knew they make wine there?) and Lebanon.

There's so much else to enjoy. I'll be chatting to three top winemakers – Jane Hunter CNZM OBE, America Brewer and Vasco Martins – at the Taste Theatre about their wines, what has inspired them and what the future might hold.

For a deeper dive, book into our Masterclasses on Sparkling Wine, Wine & Cheese, and Sherry & Food. And if you're feeling creative, grab a pen and paper and enter our design-a-label competition – the winners will receive three bottles with their design on the labels.

There's music and dancing at the Cellar Classics Silent Disco and artisan foods to snack on. Don't forget to vote for your Wine of the Show – and keep an eye out for the live leaderboard to see if your favourite is up for a medal.

Finally, to help you discover more top-hitters, we've labelled all the wines by type. Check it out at our 'What is your perfect wine style' stand by the entrance, grab a style badge and get out there tasting!

THE FESTIVAL GOES NORTH

I was born in Bolton, and dragged – screaming apparently – down south aged four and have lived there under sufferance ever since. I am proud to tell anyone interested that I am a Lancastrian ... or is that a Greater Mancunian nowadays? And I'm very much looking forward to doing our big show 'back home'.

And what can you expect? In true Festival style we bring together great winemakers and customers like you, who love good wine. I've been in the business of wine discovery since 1969, but it's never lost any of its fascination. Many things have changed, but the passion of our producers never wavers.

Meet the people behind the wines today. Talk to them, quiz them – they love it. The Festival is one of their favourite events of the year ... because they meet you, the people who enjoy their wine.

Jehan Sacaze

"It's been a tough vintage in France this year. Heatwaves and drought, with yields down nearly a fifth on average ... some regions like Champagne much more. But our winemakers wouldn't dream of giving up. So today, as you taste your way around the show, raise a glass with them to honour their dedication. Share your passion for their wines and give them the strength to continue crafting beautiful wines for us."

Jehan Sacaze, Head of Buying

Bordeaux today offers some of the best quality and value in all France. With a warmer climate, the red wines are full of intense fruit and richness – characteristics that make the wines deliciously approachable even when young, yet with the structure to age too. And in these tough times, the prices are exceptionally attractive as well.

But that's not the only story – there are crisp, elegant whites, barrel-matured examples, fresh rosés and sweet wines as well.

Get stuck in, taste all the different styles and explore all the energy and excitement of the region for yourself.

SOUTHERN FRANCE & THE MIDI

"Southern France has always been a special place for Tony Laithwaite, the second region he explored after Bordeaux. It's been central to the company's wine buying ever since. The rich, diverse landscape and range of climates – from coastal Mediterranean, cool mountain foothills to the sun-scorched, arid plains towards the Spanish border – make every style of wine. There is elegant fizz, crisp whites, rich ones too, mineral-fresh rosé and dark, swarthy reds. And living there means I'm right on hand to meet the growers and discover some terrific gems. Taste a few of them here today."

Mark Hoddy, Wine Buyer & Winemaker

WINES OF EXTRAORDINARY VALUE AND CRAFTSMANSHIP FROM REGIONS OLD AND NEW.

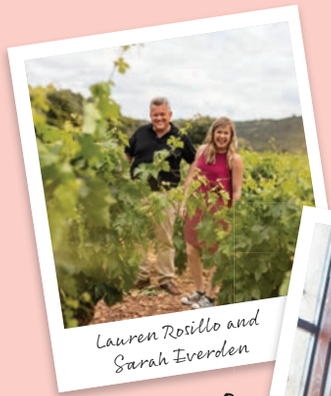

From Galicia in the northwest to Jerez in the very south, Spain produces a wonderful variety of vibrant, exciting wines in every hue ... and the quality and value are second to none. Our growers are eager to fill your glass and tell you about them.

Sarah Everden

"Spain boasts the most land under vine in the world and nearly 140 different wine regions. No surprise then that there's a terrific range of styles to be found and real treasure among them. What they all share is authenticity, quality and value. In our pursuit of the very best, we rediscover forgotten wine regions and almost-extinct grape varieties, as well as some sensational classics. Explore the exciting wines here – from fresh whites, crunchy-fruit reds and long-oaked wines to amazing sherries, all with so much flavour to share."

Harvest time

Steep terraced vineyards

Jehan Sacaze

"Wine Spectator called Portugal 'the most exciting wine country on the planet', and having spent years visiting these estates myself, I'm not arguing. Nowhere else packs in so many grape varieties, climates and styles. It's a wine lover's playground. I've built real relationships with the producers, the ones with generations of family knowledge behind every bottle, and you'll find their wines right here: big, velvety reds, as well as crisp whites and rosés. And don't overlook the Ports. We've got some beauties from Andresen."

Welcome to ITALY

ITALY – A LAND OF FOOD, WINE AND CULTURE ... AND PEOPLE PASSIONATE ABOUT ALL THREE. DISCOVER THE REAL ITALY TODAY

From top to toe, Italy boasts a terrific range of grape varieties and wine styles, many shaped over centuries to partner perfectly the region's traditional dishes. Explore the variety here today and meet the dedicated people behind them.

Leonardo Bassano

"With thousands of years of winemaking history and the most indigenous grape varieties of any country (a few of which we've rescued from extinction), Italy is a land devoted to wine and culture. We invite you today to taste the 'real Italy' – from small family vineyards and winemakers whose families go back generations. These wines are made with a true passion, from local grapes shaped by the landscape they thrive in. It's my job to travel the length and breadth of the country to discover the hidden gems and the finest classics. Explore a few of them here today."

Welcome to

SOUTH AFRICA

THE RAINBOW NATION FLIES THE FLAG FOR QUALITY AND SUPERB-VALUE STYLES ACROSS THE SPECTRUM

Having made wine for three and a half centuries, South Africa has a vinous heritage to rival some of the world's finest. The magic of Cape wine today remains incredibly vibrant thanks to forward-thinking producers whose estates are often the beating heart of their local communities.

Becca Reeves

"South Africa produces full-flavoured wines across the taste spectrum, but it's still the whites that steal the limelight … Chenin Blanc, Sauvignon Blanc, Colombard, Viognier and more. Taste the Inzuzo Pinot Grigio from a new employee-owned cellar with profits going back into the community. Lost Ostrich Grenache Blanc is another new find – all creamy and rounded. There are favourites, too, like Queen Bee and the Excelsior whites. Or treat yourself to the exceptional reds from Bellemore and Boschendal."

The Gabb family bought Journey's End farm in Stellenbosch in 1995 and we're proud to have championed them for the last ten years. They're heroes in South Africa, making great wines across the price spectrum as well as supporting the community ... providing schools and training for their workers. In the pandemic, they served thousands of meals each week for those in need.

Sustainability is high on their agenda too and they've won a trio of top awards. Their latest venture is Inzuzo, a wine company majority-owned by its workers. A good news story of wine and community – we're all cheers to that.

Welcome to the

AMERICAS

A TASTE OF WHAT MAKES THE WINES OF SOUTH AMERICA SO SPECIAL – FROM TEXTURED SEMILLON TO SMOOTH MALBEC

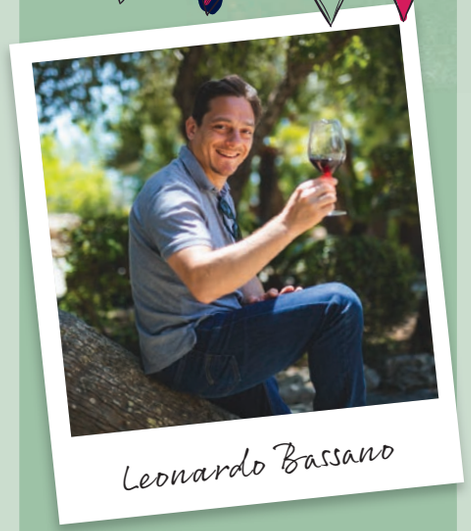

South America's long tail – from Chile on the west to Argentina, across the Andes on the east – has plenty to offer the inquisitive wine lover. Crisp whites, fruit-filled reds and smooth Malbecs. Not forgetting great bottles from Uruguay. It's time to explore.

Leonardo Bassano

"With winemaker friendships in Chile dating back decades, we can bring you some truly exciting wines. There's Giorgio Flessati in the remote Elqui Valley and the Silva family in Colchagua to name just two. Explore new varieties as well, Pais and Semillon, alongside scintillating Sauvignon from cool Leyda. In Argentina it's all about high altitude and elegance and there's plenty of that in the superb wines from multi-trophy-winning family estates Zuccardi and Hervé Fabre. Remember to visit the Uruguay stand and sample its great Tannats and more."

COME AND TRY SOME TERRIFIC WINES FROM THE LAND OF THE LONG WHITE CLOUD

New Zealand has around 200 million vines amidst a population of just 5 million people. Wine is a source of national pride and of great importance to the economy. Perhaps that's why they get it so right, so often ... not only with Sauvignon Blanc in Marlborough, but all sorts of grapes from regions across the two islands.

Marlborough

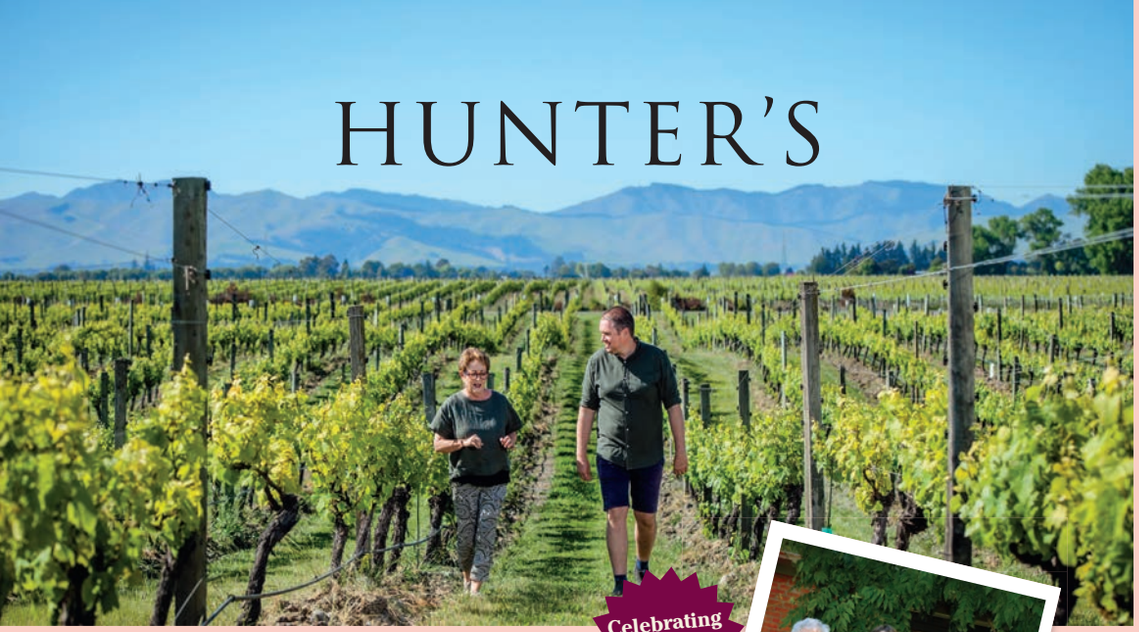

The stone that gave its name to Seifried Estate's Split Rock

Ben Cohn

"It's impossible to think of Sauvignon Blanc today without thinking of New Zealand. But there is a whole lot more to discover on this beautiful two-island country – Riesling, Gewürztraminer and Chardonnay among the vibrant whites, silky, berry-filled Pinot Noirs and not forgetting a delicious fizz from Hunter's too, celebrating their 40th year with us. Our family wineries are looking forward to filling your glasses with some terrific-tasting wines and telling you all about them."

Celebrating 40 YEARS at the Festival

Jane Hunter and family

The Marlborough wine region went from nothing to world-beater in about the time it takes vines to take root. And at the centre of it all were Belfast-born Ernie Hunter and his Australian wife, Jane.

They were the first to launch Marlborough Sauvignon onto the world stage ... exactly 40 years ago. And what a debut! At our own London Wine Festival, Hunter's Sauvignon didn't just win, it swept the room, taking nearly every single vote. It caused such a stir it was even debated in the New Zealand parliament.

Sadly Ernie didn't live long enough to see the many future triumphs, but Jane and family have continued the great legacy. Meet Jane and the team today and taste their show-stealing wines.
