THE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship was created in February 2009 as a joint initiative to grow the game by the Asia-Pacific Golf Confederation, the Masters Tournament and The R&A. An invitation to play in the Masters Tournament and The Open is given to the winner, while the runner(s)-up gains a place in The Open Qualifying Series. The 120-player field is annually comprised of the top male amateurs in the Asia-Pacific region invited from the 43 Asia-Pacific Golf Confederation member organisations.

Korean Changwon Han triumphed at the inaugural event in China in 2009, before Hideki Matsuyama won in his native Japan in 2010 and successfully defended his title in Singapore the following year.

At 14 years old, Tianlang Guan of China won the fourth edition of the event in 2012 at Amata Spring Country Club, while Changwoo Lee from the Republic of Korea claimed the title the next year in China. Australian Antonio Murdaca became the next champion in 2014 at The Royal Melbourne Golf Club.

In 2015, China's Cheng Jin fired a course-record eight-under 62 en route to winning at The Clearwater Bay Golf & Country Club in Hong Kong, China. In 2016, champion Curtis Luck of Australia triumphed with a bogey-free 67 and a one-stroke victory after starting the final round seven strokes behind the lead.

Yuxin Lin became the third champion from China after finishing with a birdie and eagle in the final round to win by three strokes at Royal Wellington Golf Club in New Zealand in 2017. In 2018, Takumi Kanaya followed in Matsuyama's footsteps when he became the second player from Japan to lift the trophy in Singapore at Sentosa Golf Club.

Two years after his first victory, Lin birdied the par-5 18th twice in a playoff to beat Kanaya, the defending champion, at Sheshan International Golf Club in Shanghai in 2019 and become the second two-time winner of the Championship.

The 2020 edition was cancelled due to the global COVID-19 pandemic. At the 2021 Masters Tournament, two-time Asia-Pacific Amateur champion Hideki Matsuyama became the first player from Japan to win the Green Jacket, and the first alumnus to win a major championship.

In 2021, the event returned as World No. 1 Keita Nakajima of Japan defeated Hong Kong's Taichi Kho with a birdie on the second playoff hole at Dubai Creek Golf & Yacht Club in the United Arab Emirates. In 2022, Australian Cameron Smith won The Open at St Andrews to become the second alumnus to win a major championship, while another Australian, Harrison Crowe, got up and down on the 72nd hole to win the 2022 Asia-Pacific Amateur at Amata Spring Country Club in Thailand.

Local Australian Jasper Stubbs topped China's Wenyi Ding and Sampson Zheng in a three-way playoff at The Royal Melbourne Golf Club to win the 2023 Asia-Pacific Amateur, and a year later Ding avenged his playoff loss with a one-stroke win at Taiheiyo Club Gotemba in Japan.

THE TROPHY

The winner of the Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship has his name engraved on the Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship Trophy, which stands 40 centimetres/15.75" tall and weighs more than six kilograms/13 lbs.

2025 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP INFORMATION

Dates	23-26 October, 2025
Format	72 holes, stroke play. A cut is made after 36 holes for the leading 60 players plus ties. In the event of a tie after 72 holes, the winner is decided by a sudden-death playoff. In the event of inclement weather or other unforeseen circumstances, the Championship Committee reserves the right to modify the Championship as deemed necessary. Modifications may include shortening the Championship, adjusting the day, round or method used for the player cut and changing the designated playoff holes.
Award	Champion Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship Trophy Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship Gold Medal Runner(s)-Up Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship Silver Medal
Venue	Designed by Karl Litten and established in 1988 as the first grass course in the Middle East, Emirates Golf Club's Majlis Course is located south of downtown Dubai and enjoys views of the city's skyline. The Majlis Course annually serves as the host of the DP World Tour's Dubai Desert Classic, an event won by the likes of Seve Ballesteros, Tiger Woods, Rory McIlroy and Ernie Els, the latter of which owns the course record of 61. Australia's Lucas Herbert won the Dubai Desert Classic in 2020 to become the first alum to win the event five years after his final appearance at the Asia-Pacific Amateur. Emirates Golf Club will host the Asia-Pacific Amateur for the first time.
Exemptions	The champion will receive an invitation to the Masters Tournament and an exemption into The 154th Open; the runner(s)-up will receive an exemption into The Open Qualifying Series; the top-three finishers will receive an exemption into The 131st Amateur Championship (tie scenarios indicated in the Terms of Championship)
Par	35-37-72
Length	7,289 yards/6,665 metres
Designer	Karl Litten
Opened	1988
Qualifications	The 2025 Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship will have a maximum field of 120 male amateur players. The field will be selected by the following criteria: 1. Past champions will be exempt for a five-year period from the year of their win, provided they maintain their amateur status. 2. The top five (including ties) from the 2024 Championship will receive an automatic exemption into the 2025 Championship, provided they maintain their amateur status. 3. In addition to the players qualifying above, the top two ranked players from each APGC member country, plus the following four ranked players from the host country, as ranked on WAGR as of 7 August 2025 will qualify for an invitation. If there is only one ranked player from a member country, that player will be the sole participant from that country. Any country without a player in the ranking may nominate one player, with an established handicap of 5.4 or less, subject to AAC Executive Committee approval, to fill up to one position. 4. The remainder of the field will be comprised of the next highest ranked players from APGC member countries as ranked on the WAGR as of 7 August 2024. The maximum number of eligible players from any APGC member country, with the exception of the host country, will be seven. The host nation may have up to 10 participants. 5. If players from Conditions 1 and 2 above do not qualify under Conditions 3 and 4, these players will be included in the field in addition to the maximum number of eligible players from their country. If, however, they fall within the WAGR players from their country that qualifies under Conditions 3 and 4, their country will not receive additional invitations. 6. The Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship reserves the right, at its discretion, to invite additional players or withdraw an invitation for any reason including but not limited to disciplinary matters, anti-doping sanctions or behavior exhibited by a player that the Executive Committee determines to be contrary to the best interest of the Championship.

CHINA’S WENYI DING WINS ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP IN DRAMATIC FASHION

Date	3-6 October 2024
Venue	Taiheiyo Club Gotemba
Par	35-35-70
Length	7,217 yards / 6,599 metres
Designer	Shunsuke Kato
Opened	1977

China’s Wenyi Ding won the 2024 Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship after a final-round 67, his fourth consecutive 67 at the par-70 Taiheiyo Club Gotemba.

The 12-under total was enough to edge fellow China countryman Ziqin Zhou by one stroke as the field battled rainy conditions throughout the week in the foothills of Mount Fuji. The win marks the fifth victory by a Chinese player in the 15 editions of the Championship, the most by any country.

“It feels really good. Last year I lost in the playoff and just felt I couldn’t play any better. And this year I got the trophy, it’s amazing,” said Ding. “Before I played No. 17 I didn’t want to play for a birdie. I just wanted to save a par. I felt nervous on the birdie putt (on 18). I don’t know why but it went three or four feet by. I was able to hole it.”

Ding entered the Championship as the highest-ranked player in the field at No. 5 in the World Amateur Golf Ranking. He fell on the second hole of a playoff at the 2023 Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship held at The Royal Melbourne Golf Club.

The 19-year-old moved ahead with a birdie at the third and followed up with a birdie at the ninth to lead by three at the turn over Zhou, an 18-year-old member of the men’s golf team at the University of California – Berkeley. Zhou birdied the par-5 18th to briefly tie the lead before Ding’s birdie at the par-3 17th – a 239-yard shot that landed inside six feet – proved to be the difference. He found a bunker off the tee at the par-5 18th and laid up to 140 yards. His approach shot found the back of the green and the ensuing two-putt, capped by a four-foot comeback putt, won the Championship.

Ding came out on top after an extended day’s play which saw the third round completed Sunday morning after a fog delay of six and a half hours on Friday led to a delayed start for each round. The final round got underway at 9 a.m. with Ding and Zhou tied for the lead at nine-under-par, two shots clear of Japan’s Rintaro Nakano and Seonghyeon An of Korea.

Venue Information

Designed in 1977 by Shunsuke Kato, Taiheiyo Club Gotemba underwent a renovation in 2018 overseen by Rees Jones with consultation from Hideki Matsuyama. The hillside course, situated 100 kilometres southwest of Tokyo, features views of Mount Fuji. The flagship of Taiheiyo Club’s 18 golf courses, Gotemba has hosted a number of international events, including the Taiheiyo Masters and the 2001 World Cup of Golf won by South Africa’s Ernie Els and Retief Goosen.

Weather

Daily temperatures ranged between 18 and 24 degrees Celsius. Light winds throughout the week were overshadowed by consistent rain throughout the week and fog on Friday morning. The second round was delayed by six and a half hours due to fog and heavy rain, including four inches overnight, and was suspended on Friday evening before the afternoon wave teed off. The third round was suspended due to darkness on Saturday evening but was completed, along with the final round, on Sunday.

AUSTRALIAN LOCAL JASPER STUBBS WINS IN PLAYOFF AT ROYAL MELBOURNE

Date	26-29 October 2023
Venue	The Royal Melbourne Golf Club
Par	35-36-71
Length	7,055 yards / 6,451 metres
Designer	Dr. Alister MacKenzie
Opened	1891

Jasper Stubbs brought a fourth Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship victory to Australia with his win on home soil at Royal Melbourne Golf Club.

Stubbs started the final round six strokes behind then leader Sampson Zheng, who broke the amateur Composite Course record with a 65 during the third round. With all eyes on the leader, Stubbs remained under the radar for much of the day, but he used his Sandbelt golf experience dealing with the blustery wind conditions to rise to the top of the leaderboard. A local favorite, as he lives just two miles from Royal Melbourne, Stubbs carded a two-under-par round of 69 to finish with a one-over-par total of 285 for the Championship. His run of birdies at 11, 13 and 17 were enough to match Zheng and Wenyi Ding and force a three-way playoff at one over par.

With a playoff at the 18th hole (and repeating the 18th if necessary), Stubbs played an approach to the back of the green about 25 feet from the hole and Ding followed him to similar distance on the back right of the green. Zheng’s approach went through the back of the green to leave him with a difficult downhill chip, which he putt well past the hole. In a moment of huge drama, Stubbs and Ding both holed their snaking downhill putts for the only birdies on the 18th all day to continue in the playoff, while Zheng was eliminated.

On the second playoff hole, Stubbs once again found the back of the green and rolled a 60-foot putt down to a few inches from the hole. Ding’s approach found a bunker right of the green and he chipped to 20 feet, but his putt lipped out to leave Stubbs with a tap-in to claim the title.

With this victory Stubbs will be awarded an invitation to the 2024 Masters, an exemption into The 152nd Open and an exemption into The 129th Amateur Championship.

“Yeah, like I said in my interview, the Masters is something every kid has ever dreamed of. It’s the one tournament that every golfer wants to play in their life and now that that’s going to be a reality for me, I am speechless. It was always a dream, and now that it’s a reality, I don’t know what it’s going to look like. But I’m just really excited for April now, and also for The Open. I’ve been over in the UK and tried to qualify for that championship before, and now that I am exempt in next year, it’s going to be pretty nuts to go over there and see how I go.”

Venue Information

Founded in 1891, The Royal Melbourne Golf Club is one of Australia’s oldest golf clubs. The 2023 Championship was played over a composite course comprising 12 holes from the West Course and six holes from the East Course. The West Course was designed by Dr. Alister MacKenzie, the same architect who shaped Augusta National Golf Club. Royal Melbourne has previously held 16 Men’s Australian Opens, two Women’s Australian Opens, three Presidents Cups and the Asia-Pacific Amateur in 2014, when Adelaide’s Antonio Murdaca became the first Australian to capture a title at the event.

Weather

Daily temperatures ranged between 10 and 25 degrees Celsius, getting warmer as the week went on. Windy during the first and third rounds with averages from 12-22 mph, with calmer winds in the second and final rounds averaging 6-15 mph.

2022 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

HARRISON CROWE

2022 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2022

HARRISON CROWE SOARS TO VICTORY IN THAILAND

Date	27-30 October 2022
Venue	Amata Spring Country Club
Par	36-36-72
Length	7,502 yards / 6,860 metres
Designer	Lee Schmidt
Opened	2005

Harrison Crowe produced a masterful back nine to edge out China's Bo Jin by one shot to claim the 2022 Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship in Thailand. Crowe became the third Australian player to win the trophy.

At Amata Spring Country Club in Chonburi, Crowe, ranked No. 43 in the World Amateur Golf Ranking, was three shots behind Jin when he made the turn at three-over par. However, four birdies in five holes on the back nine and a heroic up and down for par from the back of the 18th hole helped him to a level-par 72 and a one-shot victory.

"I certainly had to dig deep. At the turn, I kind of told my dad and his mate, that I just needed one to go in, just one to drop, and from there, I backed myself to keep it going. I had not had a birdie all day, and the one on 11th got my momentum going forward," said Crowe, who turned 21 on October 15.

The iconic par-3 17th with its island green proved to be crucial in deciding the outcome of the championship. Jin's tee shot to the 129-yard hole came up short in the water and he could only manage a double-bogey five.

Crowe enjoyed a one-shot lead on the 18th tee but there was more drama to come when, after a perfect tee shot that left him with a 181-yard approach, Crowe pulled his second shot and almost found the water. His ball stayed dry and he made a difficult up-and-down for his all-important par.

"I think it was going to go in the water. I pulled it, but I flushed it. So, I thought I had plenty on, but I was just hoping that it just caught a bit of grass," Crowe added.

"It means so much. I played a lot of really good golf early in the season, but towards the middle of the year when I travelled overseas, I didn't play very good golf at all. So, I came out here this week with something to prove, and I'm just really proud of myself the way I handled myself on and off the course," said Crowe.

Venue Information

Amata Spring Country Club was designed by Lee Schmidt and established in 2005. In addition to previously hosting the AAC in 2012, the course has provided the backdrop for prestigious events such as the LPGA Thailand, the Thailand Golf Championship and the Royal Trophy team event. Guan Tianlang earned a historic victory at the 2012 AAC over future PGA Tour winners C.T. Pan (runner-up), Matsuyama (fourth) and Smith (T-7) when he became the youngest player to win the AAC at 14 years old. He later became the youngest player to compete, and make the cut, at the Masters Tournament in 2013.

Weather

Daily temperatures ranged between 27 and 33 degrees Celsius. Winds averaged 10-15 mph with gusts up to 22 mph during the final round.

2021 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

KEITA NAKAJIMA

2021 ASIA-PACIFIC

2021

WORLD NO. 1 KEITA NAKAJIMA WINS ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP IN DUBAI

Date	3-6 November 2021
Venue	Dubai Creek Golf & Yacht Club
Par	35-36-71
Length	6,986 yards / 6,388 metres
Designer	Karl Litten/Thomas Bjorn
Opened	1993

Keita Nakajima became the third player from Japan to win the Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship (AAC), defeating Hong Kong's Taichi Kho on the second hole of a thrilling playoff at Dubai Creek Golf & Yacht Club.

The No. 1 player in the World Amateur Golf Ranking ® (WAGR®) shot a three-under-par 68 in the final round to catch up with Kho, who fired a 64 in the third round followed by a 65 to finish on 14 under par.

The two players headed back to the 18th hole, which was parred in the first attempt. Kho then found the water with his second from the right fairway bunker playing it a second time. Nakajima hit a superb drive, followed by a second to 20 feet. He rolled that in to seal the victory with a birdie.

It was the second consecutive playoff in AAC history, following the two extra holes played by Yuxin Lin and Takumi Kanaya in the 2019 championship in Shanghai.

With his win, the 21-year-old Nakajima received an invitation to the 2022 Masters Tournament, thus making his dream of playing a practice round at Augusta National Golf Club with 2021 Masters champion Hideki Matsuyama come true, as well as an exemption into The 150th Open at St Andrews.

"I am very proud of what I have achieved. To follow in the footsteps of Hideki-san and Takumi feels great. I am so excited that I will be playing three majors in 2022 (he is also exempt for the U.S. Open as part of winning the Mark H. McCormack Medal as the men's World No. 1 in 2021 WAGR ®). I am very thankful to the tournament for giving us such great opportunities," said Nakajima, who finished joint runner-up behind Kanaya in the 2018 edition in Singapore.

Nakajima, who is a former R&A Foundation Scholar, made a blazing start with birdies on the first, third and fifth holes. That took him three clear of the field, but a three-putt bogey on the sixth, followed by a double bogey on the ninth from a difficult stance in the fairway bunker, brought him back to the field.

With a fine run of five birdies in six holes from the ninth, Kho propelled himself into contention and finished with four pars to equal the low round of the day. The University of Notre Dame senior's second place was Hong Kong's best finish in 12 years of the championship.

Venue Information

Opened in 1993, Dubai Creek's Championship Course features an 18-hole, par-71 layout originally designed by Karl Litten before its redesign in 2004 led by Thomas Bjorn. The course has played host to numerous professional events, including the European Tour's Dubai Desert Classic and the Mena Tour's Dubai Creek Open, where 2018 AAC runner-up Rayhan Thomas matched a course-record 61 in 2017. Dubai Creek Golf & Yacht Club is also home to the first golf academy established in the Middle East.

Weather

Daily temperatures ranged between 24 and 33 degrees Celsius. No precipitation fell during the championship. Winds averaged 10-13 mph, with some intermittent gusts reaching 20 mph causing hazy conditions at times. Winds off the Persian Gulf caused relative humidity to be higher than normal during the championship, reaching as high as 70% in the early morning hours before returning to the low 20s in the middle of the afternoon.

Opened	2004

China's Yuxin Lin brought cheers to his home fans when he birdied the par-5 18th twice in a playoff to beat defending champion and world No. 1 Takumi Kanaya and become the second two-time winner of the Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship (AAC).

On Sunday at Sheshan International Golf Club in Shanghai, the 2017 champion Lin (68) came to the par-5 18th hole at 11 under par but hit his second shot from the fairway bunker into the water and made a bogey on the final hole of regulation.

Kanaya (69) laid up perfectly and hit his third shot to less than five feet but missed the birdie putt that would have made him the second player to successfully defend his title after fellow AAC champion Hideki Matsuyama (2010 and 2011) of Japan.

The duo both finished 10 under par and entered the first-ever playoff in the championship's history. Both birdied the first extra hole, No. 18, in incredible fashion. Lin muscled his ball out of thick rough with almost no stance, while Kanaya sank a 30-foot putt.

After they returned to No. 18 for the second extra hole, it was all over when Lin hit a superb third shot from the greenside bunker to three feet and made the putt, while Kanaya missed his from a longer range.

It was the perfect homecoming for Lin, who earned an invitation to the 2020 Masters Tournament and The 149th Open at Royal St George's. After shifting his home base to Los Angeles last month where he attended the University of Southern California, it was a poignant moment for the 18-year-old Chinese star, who had his father on the bag this week.

"It definitely means a lot to me, especially this week, winning at home is certainly huge for me and for China golf, as well. I'm just really honored to be alongside Hideki as a two time winner," said Lin.

The 18th hole had proven troublesome for Lin, who played the hole in four over par over his last three rounds.

"I was having a little trouble with the 18th three days in a row. We knew there were extra holes coming up and stepping on the 18th again wasn't a great feeling for me. And especially that lie off the tee shot, in the first extra hole, definitely not what you wanted. But at least everything turned out pretty well, so pretty satisfied," added the world No. 114, who clinched his first AAC title with an impressive birdie-eagle finish at Royal Wellington Golf Club in New Zealand.

"I didn't really think about the win. I was just trying to play some good golf out there. I made some mistakes throughout the round but stayed patient the whole time.

"It really matters a lot playing against the best amateur in the world right now, and especially to be able to get that win is definitely huge. Obviously, Takumi is a great player. It gives me a lot of confidence to be able to compete with the No. 1 player in the world in extra holes."

Venue Information

Sheshan International Golf Club, widely regarded as one of the world's best golf courses, is located at the base of Sheshan Mountain in Shanghai, China. The par-72 course plays host annually to the WGC-HSBC Champions, which two-time AAC champion (2010, 2011) Hideki Matsuyama won in 2016.

Weather

Partly cloudy skies were present throughout the championship, with a morning patchy fog present over the weekend. Warm temperatures ranged from 21 – 27 degrees Celsius. A ten-minute fog delay began the final round of play on Sunday and no other delays occurred during the championship.

2018 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

TAKUMI KANAYA

2018 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2018

KANAYA REALIZES CHILDHOOD DREAM WITH AAC TITLE, BECOMES SECOND JAPANESE CHAMPION

Date	4-7 October 2018
Venue	Sentosa Golf Club, Singapore
Par	35-35-70
Length	6,262 metres / 6,847 yards
Designer	Frank Pennick / Redesign by Andrew Johnston and Matt Swanson in 2016
Opened	1974

Japan's Takumi Kanaya followed in the footsteps of his successful countryman Hideki Matsuyama when he captured the 10th Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship (AAC). Kanaya earned an invitation to the 2019 Masters Tournament and a place in The 148th Open at Royal Portrush.

The 20-year-old Kanaya, the highest-ranked Japanese player in the field at No. 22, shot a five-under-par 65 on the final day to finish at 13-under-par 267, two shots ahead of India's Rayhan Thomas and compatriot and 2018 Asian Games gold medalist Keita Nakajima. As runners-up, both Thomas and Nakajima earned spots in The Open Qualifying Series.

After entering the final round two strokes behind defending champion Yuxin Lin, Kanaya set out to make up ground and played his first six holes in four under. When inclement weather hit, Kanaya wasn't fazed by the suspension in play. Following the hour delay, he powered ahead of the field with three consecutive birdies starting at the 14th hole. After a bogey on the 17th, he went on to finish two strokes ahead of what had been a tight leader board throughout the day.

"This is simply like a dream. I have been dreaming of going to the Masters ever since I was a kid," said Kanaya, who received a congratulatory call from Matsuyama, a two-time AAC champion and a multi-time winner on the PGA Tour, moments after winning the championship.

"I never expected to play the Masters and The Open so early in my career, so this is just huge.

"I played well throughout the day, but I think the key for me was how I kept my calm and composure during the round."

Thomas, who played his last 54 holes in 15 under par, was disappointed with the four-over 74 start he had in the first round, which eventually made all the difference.

"One thing I definitely learned from this week is that you can't win a championship of this level after starting with a four-over round," said Thomas, who made only one bogey in his last 45 holes.

"Irrespective of my score, I loved every moment of this great championship, and I am glad that I have the chance to come back again next year knowing that I have the ability to win it."

Nakajima, who fired four sub-par rounds, felt he was in the reckoning until he made a bogey on the 17th hole, but added that Kanaya's play was a factor, too.

"I had a fantastic week. I thought I still had a chance coming in, but the three-putt bogey on the 17th was a turning point. And also, Takumi played so solid," said Nakajima.

Venue Information

First opened in 1974, Sentosa Golf Club became the host of the Singapore Open in 2005, which is now the SMBC Singapore Open, as well as the HSBC Women's Champions since 2012. The club is home to two golf courses and is located on the resort island of Sentosa, surrounded by scenic views of the Singapore Harbour and Singapore Straits.

Weather

Warm temperatures and afternoon storms were present throughout the championship. Temperatures ranged from 27–32 degrees Celsius. Lightning brought on by the afternoon storms caused suspensions in play during the third round for two hours early afternoon and just over an hour during the final round.

2017 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

YUXIN LIN

2017 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2017

17-YEAR-OLD YUXIN LIN BECOMES THE THIRD AAC CHAMPION FROM CHINA

Date	26-29 October 2017
Venue	Royal Wellington Golf Club, New Zealand
Par	36-35-71
Length	6,258 metres/6,845 yards
Designer	Turner Macpherson Golf Design
Opened	1908

China's Yuxin Lin won the ninth Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship at Royal Wellington Golf Club to secure spots in the 2018 Masters Tournament and The 147th Open at Carnoustie. In front of large crowds, the left-hander birdied the 17th hole and eagled 18 to card a six-under-par 65 and finish 14-under, three ahead of compatriot Andy Zhang, who was rewarded with a place in The Open Qualifying Series.

The Beijing-based Lin, who turned 17 on October 12, became the third Chinese player to win the championship following victories by Tianlang Guan in 2012, aged 14, and Cheng Jin, who was 17 when he won in 2015.

"I'm very, very happy I got the chance to win this event and play two majors," said Lin, who trailed Zhang for much of the round. "I'm very proud of myself. It means a lot to me to play in the Masters and The Open next year.

"I was just trying to stay aggressive and hit as many drivers as I could. Even though I wasn't playing that well for 12 holes, I still stuck with that plan. Andy is a very steady player, but I had to stay aggressive and get birdies."

Lin started the day at eight under, one ahead of playing partners Min-woo Lee and Zhang, China's top-ranked amateur. And it was Zhang, the 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Florida, who quickly took control with birdies at one and three to take the lead, which he held for much of the round.

Zhang doubled his lead with a birdie at 13, but Lin bounced back with a crucial birdie at the next hole. When Zhang bogeyed 15, the pair drew even at 11 under and remained level with two holes to play. That's when Lin's power game and self-confidence came into play.

The solidly built teen drove the green at the 361-yard, par-4 17th to set up a tap-in birdie. On the par-5 18th, he smashed his drive down the middle of the fairway then watched as his stunning five-iron from 216 yards landed just six feet from the flag, holing the putt for an eagle three and punching the air in victory.

"On 18, I was going to hit a four-iron because it was a bit into the wind, but then I thought it might roll over the green, so I hit a five. I thought it was a bit short but it turned out that it was pretty good."

Zhang, who competed in the U.S. Open at the age of 14, was playing with Lin for the first time in competition and was full of praise for his younger compatriot.

"It shows you how good China is getting at golf," Zhang explained. "The next generation is coming up and China will be a big country up there."

Venue Information

Founded in 1895, Royal Wellington Golf Club is situated outside New Zealand's capital city on a parkland site adjacent to the Hutt River. The club has hosted seven New Zealand Open Championships since 1912, and in 2004 became the first golf club in the country to receive Royal status.

Weather

No weather delays. Cooler mornings gave way to warm afternoons with high temperatures ranging from 17.2 – 21.7 degrees Celsius and maximum wind gusts ranging from 22.3 km/h to 42.5 km/h.

2016 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

CURTIS LUCK
2016 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2016

AUSTRALIA’S CURTIS LUCK TRIUMPHS IN KOREA AT THE 2016 AAC

Date	6-9 October 2016
Venue	Jack Nicklaus Golf Club, Republic of Korea
Par	36-36-72
Length	6,457 metres/7,062 yards
Designer	Jack Nicklaus
Opened	2010

Australia’s Curtis Luck, then the world’s second-ranked amateur, overcame a seven-stroke deficit to secure a one-shot victory over compatriot Brett Coletta at the eighth Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship held at Jack Nicklaus Golf Club. Luck, who had already earned berths in the Masters Tournament, U.S. Open and The 146th Open at Royal Birkdale in 2017 after winning the U.S. Amateur in August, carded a bogey-free 67 to finish at 12-under-par (276).

Luck, 20, was seven strokes behind Coletta at the start of the final day and had to shoot his lowest score of the week to clinch the AAC title in his second appearance, having made his debut in 2014.

“I’ve had an amazing year and this has topped it off,” said Luck who was part of the Australia team that won the World Amateur Team Championships in Mexico two weeks prior.

“I came here to try my best and win, but I wasn’t expecting to be standing here with the trophy at the end of the week. I’ve had a pretty good year and a couple of big wins in the past couple of months.”

Playing in the penultimate group, Luck birdied Nos. 2, 11, 12 and 15 and was playing the par-five 18th when he realised Coletta had drawn level with him following a chip-in birdie on 17. Luck had hit his second shot into a bunker, but splashed out to 15 feet and drained a curling birdie putt, following it up with an emotional fist pump.

“It was a pretty nerve-racking finish as I knew Brett could make birdie on 18, so fortunately for me he didn’t,” said Luck. “That bunker shot was probably one of the most nervous shots I’ve ever had to play, and the putt just topped it off. I left myself a bit of a swinging putt, but I had a really good feel for it.”

Venue Information

Jack Nicklaus Golf Club is located in Incheon, within the Songdo International Business District (IBD), 64 kms west of Seoul and offers views of modern high-rise buildings and natural scenery of the west coast. Before hosting the AAC for the first time in the Republic of Korea, the course hosted a Champions Tour event, the Shinhan Donghae Open, the Chosunilbo-Posco Championship, the Korea Women’s Open and was the home of the 2015 Presidents Cup.

Weather

No weather delays. Light rain on Friday afternoon and evening preceded a cold front that brought cool, breezy and drier weather through the weekend. Sunday’s final round saw sunny and cool conditions with winds of 19-29 km/h and temperatures between 10-15 degrees Celsius.

2015 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

CHENG JIN

2015 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2015

CHINESE NO. 1-RANKED AMATEUR CHENG JIN CROWNED 2015 AAC CHAMPION

Date	1-4 October 2015
Venue	The Clearwater Bay Golf & Country Club Hong Kong, China
Par	35-35-70
Length	5,956 metres/6,513 yards
Designer	Thomson Perret Design
Opened	1982

Chinese No. 1-ranked amateur golfer Cheng Jin, of Beijing, was crowned champion of the 2015 Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship after high winds and heavy rainfall from a nearby typhoon forced the cancellation of the final round at The Clearwater Bay Golf & Country Club in Hong Kong, China.

The first group teed off as scheduled at 6:40 a.m. with nine groups making it on course for the start of the fourth round. Play was subsequently suspended at 7:41 a.m. With conditions not improving by midday, Jin, the 54-hole leader, became the winner over joint runners-up Ryan Ruffels and Cameron Davis of Australia.

Jin opened the championship with a course-record eight-under 62 in the first round, followed by rounds of 68 and 69 to finish at 11-under 199 and earn an invitation to the 2016 Masters Tournament. His victory also secured his place in The Open Qualifying Series for The Open along with Davis and Ruffels, who each finished at 10 under par.

At 17 years old, Jin managed to retain his place at the top of the leader board at the end of the third round thanks to a superbly judged chip at The Clearwater Bay Golf & Country Club's par-5 closing hole, from which he went on to secure a decisive birdie. With his win, Jin became the second player from China to lift the AAC trophy following the triumph of Tianlang Guan in 2012.

"This win just came so fast and so sudden," said Jin. "I was ready for the round today, and unfortunately the weather didn't work out, [but] it's my pleasure to win this week. Going there [Augusta National Golf Club] next year is just amazing for me. I'm so excited and looking forward to it."

Venue Information

The 2015 AAC marked the first time the championship was held in Hong Kong, China. The Clearwater Bay Golf & Country Club is located in the New Territories and situated on a peninsula with stunning views of the South China Sea and Hong Kong. The golf course is divided into two parts: the Highland Nine and the Ocean Nine.

Weather

Inclement weather caused delays in play throughout the week - during the morning of the first round and briefly in the late afternoon of the third round. High winds and heavy rainfall due to a nearby typhoon also resulted in suspended play in the morning of the final round. When conditions did not improve by midday, the fourth round was ultimately cancelled.

2014 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

ANTONIO MURDACA

2014 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2014

LOCAL HERO, ANTONIO MURDACA, WINS AAC BY RECORD MARGIN

Date	23–26 October 2014
Venue	The Royal Melbourne Golf Club (Composite Course) Melbourne, Australia
Par	35-37-72
Length	6,453 metres / 7,059 yards
Designer	Alister MacKenzie
Opened	1891

Antonio Murdaca, of Adelaide, Australia, was crowned champion of the sixth annual Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship (AAC) at The Royal Melbourne Golf Club in Melbourne, Australia.

Murdaca became the first Australian to win the AAC since its inaugural event in 2009. He closed with a final-round one-under-par 71 that left him seven shots clear of the field, the largest winning margin in event history.

The 19-year-old's win clinched him a spot in the 2015 Masters Tournament, in addition to The Open Qualifying Series for The Open, where runner-up Mikumu Horikawa of Japan also earned a spot.

After posting strong rounds of 69, 68 and 67, Murdaca saw his lead shrink to five shots through the front nine in the final round, with Horikawa gaining on him. It was the only time he felt any pressure, but Murdaca immediately responded with a 20-foot birdie on the par-4 10th. Two perfectly struck shots at the par-5 14th set up another birdie to get his advantage back to seven.

Murdaca, joined by his coach Gareth Jones on the bag as his caddie, made a string of pars to finish his round. By the time he hit the green in regulation on No. 18, he was prepared to acknowledge that he had won, and waved to the large crowd surrounding the green. Murdaca finished at 13-under-par 275 for the Championship.

"When I hit that shot, I felt some tingles down my spine," Murdaca said of his final approach shot. "It's a dream that's come true for me now. I always wanted to play in the Masters and it's so exciting now knowing I've got a spot in there, and also in the Qualifying Series for The Open at St Andrews."

Venue Information

Established in 1891, Royal Melbourne is Australia's oldest golf club and is one of the country's premier golf venues. It has hosted prestigious events such as the Presidents Cup (1998, 2011, 2019), the World Cup (1959, 1970) and the Women's Australian Open in 2012, in addition to hosting the men's Australian Open on 16 occasions. The AAC was contested over Royal Melbourne's original Composite Course, which was created in 1959 for the Canada Cup (now the World Cup). This setup consists of 12 holes from the West Course and six holes from the East Course.

Weather

No weather delays occurred throughout the week. The mornings were cool and windy with lows around 13 degrees Celsius and up to 29 km/h winds. Sunday was warm for the final round, with a high temperature of 26 degrees Celsius.

2013 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

CHANGWOO LEE

2013 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2013

KOREAN CHANGWOO LEE WINS 2013 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Date	24–27 October 2013
Venue	Nanshan International Golf Club (Garden Course) Longkou City, Shandong, China
Par	36-35-71
Length	6,407 metres / 7,006 yards
Designer	Steve Shepherdson
Opened	2008

Changwoo Lee claimed the fifth edition of the Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship by three strokes at the Nanshan International Golf Club in Shandong province, China.

Lee became the second Korean to win the event after Changwon Han won the inaugural event in 2009 at Mission Hills Golf Club in southern China.

With the victory, Lee clinched a spot in the 2014 Masters Tournament, in addition to The Open Qualifying Series for The Open, where he would be joined by runner-up Shohei Hasegawa of Japan.

After posting earlier rounds of 70, 72 and 69, Lee started the final day with a slender one-shot advantage over Zecheng Dou. After mixing two birdies and two bogeys over the front nine to turn in a level-par 36, he pulled away from the competition with a superb display of ball-striking that produced birdies at the 12th and 15th.

Although Lee played like a seasoned pro down the final stretch, he admitted to not being able to shed his nerves until his tee shot at the par-3 17th, which he struck to the heart of the green.

"I have been looking at the leader board since the third round and I was a bit nervous," said Lee. "I just tried to keep calm and it seemed to work. I knew I was going to win after the tee shot on the 17th hole."

Venue Information

Nanshan International Golf Club's Garden Course is located in Longkou City in the northwest region of China's Shandong province. The Garden Course is regarded as the most challenging of the six Nanshan International courses in Longkou City.

Weather

No weather delays with cold conditions in the mornings. Lows around nine degrees Celsius and up to 40 km/h winds in the first and second rounds gave way to a high temperature of 19 degrees Celsius on Sunday during the final round.

2012 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

TIANLANG GUAN

2012 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2012

GUAN BECOMES THE YOUNGEST AAC CHAMPION

Date	1–4 November 2012
Venue	Amata Spring Country Club Chonburi, Thailand
Par	36-36-72
Length	6,615 metres / 7,234 yards
Designer	Lee Schmidt
Opened	2005

Tianlang Guan became the youngest winner of the Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship at 14 years old when he won the fourth edition of the event at Amata Spring Country Club.

A final round of one-under-par 71 gave the Chinese teenage sensation a 15-under total of 273 and a nail-biting one-stroke victory over Chinese Taipei's Cheng-Tsung Pan. After rounds of 66-64-72, Guan started the final day two shots ahead of his nearest challenger, Australian Oliver Goss, who eventually finished third. The 14-year-old began nervously and off-set his two birdies on Nos. 2 and 4 with two bogeys on the 7th and 9th. He picked up his game, however, on the back nine to fend off the challenge of Pan, who had a superb final-day 65 that included nine birdies.

Weighing just 125 lbs and averaging 250 yards per tee shot, he had found Amata Spring's 18th hole, a par-4 of more than 470 yards, a little tough going. Having bogeyed the hole twice in the first three rounds, Guan was under pressure to sink at least a par putt at the final hole to secure his win. He missed the green with his 3-wood second shot, then chipped to five feet with a 60-degree wedge. He used his belly putter, which he began using in June, to successfully sink the par putt, an effort that he admitted was a little nerve-racking.

"I had a great up-and-down on the last hole," Guan said. "I was a little bit nervous over the putt."

Guan became the first Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship winner from China.

Venue Information

Amata Spring Country Club has hosted numerous international events, including The Royal Trophy and the Thailand Golf Championship. These events have helped establish the notoriety and legacy of the course. In only a few short years, Amata Spring Country Club is now recognised as the preeminent facility in the country.

Weather

No weather delays. Sunny, fine and clear with an average temperature of 28 degrees Celsius.

HIDEKI MATSUYAMA REPEATS AT ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Date	29 September – 2 October 2011
Venue	The Singapore Island Country Club (New Course) Singapore
Par	36-36-72
Length	6,525 metres/7,136 yards
Designer	Frank Pennink
Opened	1970

Hideki Matsuyama won the third Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship with a superb final round 67 at The Singapore Island Country Club (SICC).
The 19-year-old defending champion, who won the title in his native Japan in 2010, collected five birdies in a bogey-free final round to finish 18 under par and one shot clear of the Republic of Korea’s Soomin Lee. Victory provided a return for Matsuyama to the Masters Tournament at Augusta National, where he made history in April 2011 by becoming the first Asian golfer to win the Silver Cup for Low Amateur.

In Singapore, the Japanese star was never behind after the first hole but faced competition from Lee, who signed for the lowest score of the week after a birdie on the 18th hole secured a round of 64.
Overnight leader Ben Campbell also stayed in touch after recovering from a difficult start to shoot 70 and finish in third place at 16 under thanks to late birdies on Nos. 16 and 17. However, Matsuyama continued to hit fairways and greens and secured back-to-back wins with a tap-in par on the 605-yard 18th.
Admitting to feeling some nerves at the start of the back nine, he said: “To be honest, my feet started shaking. I was really nervous but I was happy that I was able to play my game even under that tremendous pressure. If you look at today and yesterday, I didn’t make any bogeys, so that was very encouraging for me.”
His final total of 270 consisted of rounds of 67-71-65-67 over The SICC’s New Course, which set the record for the lowest 72-hole score in the event’s history. He has also recorded a subpar score in every round he has played in the competition.

The Tohoku Fukushi University student continued his great form from the third round with birdies on Nos. 1, 8, 9, 12 and 16. A rare missed green on the 15th provided hope for his opponents, but a deft chip making full use of the green saw him make a comfortable par and stay one shot ahead of the field before going a further shot up at the next hole.
The top 12 was made up of players from Japan, the Republic of Korea, New Zealand, Australia, Singapore and Malaysia. A total of 120 players from 35 countries began the championship, which had television coverage broadcast in 150 countries.

Venue Information
The Singapore Island Country Club, located about 10 kilometres from downtown Singapore, has an enviable reputation as a host of major international golf events, including the 1969 World Cup, 1993 Johnnie Walker Classic, 28 editions of the Singapore Open and the European Tour’s Singapore Masters in 2001.

Weather
A one hour weather delay occurred just 10 minutes after the first round started, though play was ultimately completed before darkness. Weather delayed the start of the second round by two hours, which meant 30 players were unable to finish on Friday. Morning storms delayed play again on Saturday, but the second and third rounds were completed by day’s end.

HIDEKI MATSUYAMA CLAIMS VICTORY AT ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Date	7–10 October 2010
Venue	Kasumigaseki Country Club (West Course) Kawagoe City, Saitama Prefecture, Japan
Par	35-36-71
Length	6,463 metres/7,068 yards
Designer	Seiichi Inoue
Opened	1932

Hideki Matsuyama made sure of an invitation to Augusta National for the 2011 Masters Tournament, as well as a place in The Open Championship International Final Qualifying (IFQ), with his victory at the Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship.

The 18-year-old from Ehime, Japan, signed for a four-under-par final round of 67 to finish five shots ahead of Australia’s Tarquin MacManus, who also earned an exemption into IFQ by virtue of his runner-up performance.

Matsuyama, whose caddie that week was a friend, class-mate and scratch-handicapper from Tohoku Fukushi University, emerged from a 118-man field, made up of competitors representing 27 different Asia Pacific Golf Confederation member nations, to claim the crown.

Eleven players from six nations finished tied for ninth or better. Four Japanese competitors formed over one-third of that number, including Yusuke Asaji, who finished alone in third place at nine-under-par 275, five strokes ahead of the Republic of Korea’s Kyounghoon Lee and Ben Campbell of New Zealand.

“I’m very, very happy. I was under par for all four days and now I’m in the Masters, so that’s very exciting,” explained Matsuyama, who reached 15 under par with rounds of 68, 69, 65 – the lowest of the Championship – and 67. “I was extremely pleased to keep the bogeys off my card today; it’s harder to not make mistakes than to make birdies.”

Victory for Matsuyama, who became the first Japanese amateur to play in the Masters Tournament, seemed certain after a birdie on the 380-yard, par-4 14th hole, courtesy of a remarkable second shot from deep in the woods, which finished eight feet from the hole.

The shot was reminiscent of one played by Phil Mickelson on his way to winning the 2010 Masters Tournament. Matsuyama went on to play superbly at the 2011 Masters Tournament, finishing alongside Mickelson in a tie for 27th and winning the Silver Cup as Low Amateur.

Venue Information

The Kasumigaseki Country Club is located in Kawagoe City, Japan, one hour northwest of Tokyo in the historic Saitama Prefecture. The club has two 18-hole courses: the East and the West Courses, with the championship contested on the West Course.

Weather

No weather delays, although heavy rain fell during the third round when the temperature dropped to 17 degrees Celsius. The remaining three days were fine and clear with temperatures in the mid-20s.

2009 ASIA-PACIFIC AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

CHANGWON HAN

2009 ASIA-PACIFIC
AMATEUR CHAMPION

2009

KOREAN CHANGWON HAN'S DREAM COMES TRUE IN CHINA

Date	29 October – 1 November 2009
Venue	Mission Hills Golf Club (World Cup Course) Shenzhen, China
Par	36-36-72
Length	6,539 metres/7,149 yards
Designer	Jack Nicklaus
Opened	1994

Changwon Han of the Republic of Korea enjoyed the finest moment of his young golfing career when he booked a place at the 2010 Masters Tournament and International Final Qualifying for the 150th anniversary Open Championship at St Andrews with a dominant victory in the inaugural Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship in China.

Leading by two shots overnight, the 17-year-old earned a trip to Augusta National by crushing the competition with a final-round two-under-par 70 at Mission Hills Golf Club's World Cup Course, located about 90 minutes north of Hong Kong, China.

Han finished with a 72-hole total of 276 (-12), five shots in front of compatriot and playing partner Eric Chun, who could only manage a 73. Chun would join his countryman in the final qualifying stage for the 2010 Open Championship.

Three players – The Republic of Korea's Meenwhee Kim, Peter Spearman-Burn of New Zealand and Jordan Sherratt from Australia – shared third at 282, with Australia's Matthew Giles sixth, one shot further back at five-under-par 283.

In an indication of the depth of the field, seven different APGC member nations were represented in the top-10 places at the championship's conclusion.

Understandably, Han was thrilled with the victory. "I knew I was leading by five or six after the first nine holes, but I was trying not to think about the result.

"Anything can happen in a round of golf and I was very nervous towards the end. I have to admit that it was the thought of playing in the Masters that made me nervous. I had never even thought it would be possible for me to be playing in the Masters as an amateur," said Han.

Venue Information

The inaugural Asia-Pacific Amateur Championship was held at Mission Hills Golf Club's World Cup Course in Shenzhen, China. Shenzhen is located in southern China's Guangdong province, approximately 90 minutes north of Hong Kong, China.

Weather

No weather delays. Sunny and humid with highs each day reaching approximately 31 degrees Celsius.
