2021 PRICING NOTE

Our catalog prices may be subject to change. While we do our best to absorb and anticipate cost increases, the COVID-19 pandemic has caused significant volatility in global markets resulting in changes to our supply chain. Additionally, tariffs continue to be imposed on foreign imports. Blick is a leading art supplier in part because of our competitive prices, and we ask for understanding if these extraordinary circumstances require price increases.

Blick® Studio Acrylics

A combination of price and performance makes Blick Studio Acrylic Colors a great value for students and beginning artists. The colors mix well, so they're ideal for teaching color theory. A high pigment concentration assures strong color power and coverage, and the acrylics have a buttery texture similar to oil paint that holds impasto brush and knife marks. They dry to a permanent, non-yellowing, lightfast paint film that's non-resoluble and flexible. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

by hair

KOLINSKY SABLE is not really sable at all, but comes from the tail of a species of mink that is a member of the weasel family found in Siberia and northeastern China. It is generally conceded to be the best material for oil and watercolor brushes due to its strength, spring, and ability to retain its shape ("snap"). Long, fine hairs hold a very fine point/edge for precise control. Considered a professional grade of hair, Kolinsky will last for many years if properly cared for.

RED SABLE comes from any member of the weasel family with red hair — not from the animal known as the sable. It is found in a variety of brush styles for various mediums, with quality and characteristics that vary greatly. A good-quality pure red sable brush is a good alternative to the more expensive Kolinsky, with similar performance and durability. Often, weasel hair is blended with ox hair to make a more economical brush, but the fine point is sacrificed.

FITCH HAIR is a traditional, rare hair for oil painting that is similar to mongoose and sable. Fitch is super smooth, ideal for blending and portrait painting but (unlike sable), does not have fine hair tips. Sourced from Europe, fitch is a more affordable substitute for sable and great for detail.

OX HAIR The best quality ox hair comes from the ears of cattle or oxen. The hair has a very strong body, a silken texture, is very resilient, and has good "snap," but it lacks a fine tip. Therefore, it is most useful in medium-grade wash brushes or flat-shaped brushes. Frequently, ox hair is blended with other natural hair to increase the resiliency of a brush.

SQUIRREL HAIR Gray squirrel (Talahoutky), most highly in demand for lettering brushes and quills, is native to Russia and nearly always in short supply. Brown squirrel (Kazan) is more readily available, and used mainly for medium-quality and scholastic watercolor brushes. A very fine, thin hair taken from the squirrel's tail, it points as well as Kolinsky, but lacks Kolinsky's strength, stiffness, and "snap" (or memory). Because it has the best water-holding capacity of any natural hair brush, it works best with watercolor paints and inks.

PONY HAIR The least strong of all the natural hair options, pony hair is primarily used in scholastic-grade brushes and more economical watercolor and touch-up brushes. Pony hair lacks "snap" (or memory) and will not return to a point after a brushstroke.

CAMEL HAIR does not actually come from camels. It is found in watercolor and lettering brushes and is usually made of goat, ox, or a blend of several hairs, depending on the desired softness and intended cost of the brush. Camel hair lacks "snap" (or memory) and will not return to a point after a brushstroke.

HOG BRISTLE Sourced from around the world, the most highly sought hog bristle comes from China. It is unlike other natural fillers in that it forms a V-shaped split or "flag" at the tip and tends to have a natural curve. A brush with "interlocked" bristles has a natural resistance to fraying and spreads medium to thick paints smoothly and evenly. A selection of pure hog bristle brushes is recommended for artists who work with oils and acrylics.

SYNTHETIC Developed to mimic the qualities and working properties of the best natural hair brushes, brushes made with synthetic fibers work well with a variety of media and techniques. Often blended with natural hair, the manmade filaments in these brushes can be stiff, firm, medium, or soft, rivaling natural hair in their performance.

Dynasty® Faux Camel Watercolor Brushes SHORT handle

Ideal for teaching students about physical health and emotional health while learning to paint with watercolors, these brushes are vegan, cruelty-free, and comprised of biodegradable components. The unpainted wood handles are sourced from FSC-managed forests, making them healthy for children and the planet. These brushes allow for teachable moments regarding allergens, chemical exposure from dyes and lacquer, and emotional health (no animals were hurt, the Earth was not hurt). Dynasty addresses these concerns with eco-friendly, cruelty-free synthetic camel hair. These unique watercolor brushes come in handy canisters for ease of distribution and storage in the classroom. L–M Blick® Academic Red Sable

This brush is crafted by experienced hands and will impress the discerning user, especially with its affordable price. An economical, natural watercolor brush made of fine red sable sorted and selected in England. In this process, 15–20% of each lot of hair is rejected for size or quality reasons. The result is a brush of much greater quality than other school-grade sables.

A–C Blick® Economy Golden Taklon

LONG handle

Taklon is a type of synthetic filament that is dyed and baked to make it softer and more absorbent. Exceptionally easy to clean, this economical grade of golden taklon is a great choice for oils and acrylics because it withstands the caustic nature of solvents and acrylic paints better than animal hair for greater durability overall.

M–O Blick® Academic Synthetic LONG handle

We've engineered this filament to be slightly less firm, to make it the best partner for our Studio Synthetic. The brush is interlocked and is a bit fuller in the Flat and Bright shapes to yield a more substantial feel in your hand. Excellent for thinner applications of color. Imparts little evidence of brushstroke to the paint surface.

G–I Blick® Studio Synthetic LONG handle

A synthetic brush that feels like genuine bristle! The result of years of development, these individual filaments have the extreme taper of natural bristle and are gently formed with heat to mimic a natural curve. Ideal for water-mixable oil paints, these brushes retain their stiffness in water. They are also less susceptible to the ravages of acrylic paint.

Blick® Masterstroke® Pure Hog Bristle LONG handle

This series is one of our finest brush lines, and quite possibly the finest pure hog bristle you'll find anywhere. The very best craftsmanship goes into each brush — from the top-quality, hand-selected white bristle to the accent of gold on the tip of the long, matte black handles. The term "interlocking" refers to the abundance of natural flags, or splits, on the tips of the bristles — deep flags that lock together and produce a smooth stroke, even with heavy paints. Bristles are sorted by the natural curve of the hair and assembled so that the brush naturally retains its shape.

Princeton™ Aspen™ Series 6500 Synthetic

LONG handle ECO friendly

The synthetic bristles in Aspen brushes have the same stiffness as natural bristle but (unlike natural bristle) they stay together regardless of the surface or degree of pressure applied. Acrylics, oils, and watersoluble oils release and glide evenly off these bristles. Polished black handles are made from reforested wood, and matte black ferrules eliminate light reflection when painting on site.

Princeton™ Catalyst™ Polytip™ Series 6400

LONG handle

The tip of each hair has been split to replicate the natural flags on the finest natural bristle, giving Polytip bristles the ability to hold more paint while providing smoother application. Super stiff yet extremely responsive, these brushes are designed for use with medium/heavy body acrylics and oils, and they push even heavy gel mediums with assurance. Unlike natural hog bristle, Polytip brushes have real integrity in water.

Yasutomo® Bamboo Calligraphy Brushes

Unlike watercolor brushes, oil brushes, and most other paintbrushes, sumi brushes are composed of two separate parts — a core composed of relatively stiff hairs gathered to form a tapered point, and an outer wrapping of softer hairs selected for their ability to hold water and facilitate smooth strokes. Both come together in a point when dipped into water. This structure ensures smooth maneuverability and dynamic strokes under light or heavy pressure.

Blick® Premier Cotton Gallery Profile Canvas — Now with your choice of two stretching methods!

1. Back-Stapled

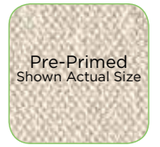

Back-stapled canvases are gallery-wrapped with uncut corners and generous selvage, which allows for future restretching on a larger frame if desired. Keys are included for tension adjustments over time.

2. Splined

Splined canvases have a rubber gasket that holds the fabric neatly in place. They hang tight to the wall and are often preferred by artists who display their work unframed.

BLICK® PREMIER cotton canvas

features:

- Gallery-stretched for a broad range of techniques in oil or acrylic
- Triple-primed with premium gesso
- 15 oz primed weight (10 oz pre-primed)
- Choose back-stapled or splined

Our premier-quality canvas is designed for archival stability and durability. A substantial, medium texture, 10 oz 100% cotton canvas is double-coated with acid-free acrylic titanium gesso to reach a primed weight of approximately 15 oz. Then it's evenly stretched by hand around solid wood stretcher bars that have been kiln-dried for warp-resistance and long-term stability.

Ampersand™ Value Series Artist Panels — Unprimed Basswood

This panel is handcrafted using a thick, non-flexible basswood top, sanded perfectly smooth. It's ready to seal and prime with the ground of your choice. The fine, uniform characteristics of basswood offer a better, imperfection-free surface. Thick and durable, this panel gives you superior stability. It won't flex, even with heavy paint and wax layers. The cradle is crafted from solid pine that can be finished with paint or stain.

Ampersand™ Aquabord™

This textured clay surface absorbs watercolors like a fine paper, but with significant advantages. This unique surface can never be overworked and it will not tear, shrink, or buckle even under heavy water application like regular papers. Lift, change, and reapply colors endlessly. Aquabord can be gently rinsed off and then used a second time if needed. Spray finished artwork with fixative to seal and eliminate the need for expensive framing. Archival and acid-free.

Pastelbord is a versatile and rigid panel for pastels. The textured surface has marble dust granules like a fine sandpaper and is perfect for both soft pastels (stick or pencil) and oil pastels. Pastels go on smooth, blend beautifully, and colors stay rich and vibrant while holding tight to the surface, layer after layer. Pastelbord is forgiving — the surface can be gently rinsed and used a second time. Dark Green and Sand make the perfect background for portraits and landscapes. White can be toned with soft pastels and water. Gray is a middle value, suitable for all subjects.

understanding paper

Whether you use papers professionally, academically, or for your own enjoyment, the paper you choose is a crucial component in achieving your desired result. The best plan is to learn everything you can about a paper before you buy. Here are some of the things artists look for when choosing papers:

Fiber

Paper is made from a variety of plant sources. Whether the fibers are cotton, linen, flax, jute, hemp, bamboo, rice straw, or rattan, they all provide cellulose fibers or plant cells of varying dimensions. A sheet of paper is basically a thin layer of mingled cellulose fibers. Most commonly, three types of fibers are used to produce papers for drawing and painting: cotton, cellulose, and a combination of fibers.

Cotton papers, made from the longest cotton fibers, are generally considered the highest quality and referred to as 100% cotton rag. Able to withstand heavy erasing, they also resist tearing and wear. High-quality 100% cotton paper can last more than 100 years. However, not all cotton papers are the same. Those made from the lesser-quality, shorter cotton fibers can become fuzzy when reworked.

Cellulose papers are usually made of wood pulp and have a natural acid component that will destroy the paper over time. The more acidic a paper is, the shorter its life expectancy. Buffers can be added to make the paper neutral.

Finish

Manufacturers of watercolor paper typically offer three or more finishes, labeled rough, cold press, not/cold press, and hot press.

Rough paper is chosen for its definite texture. It is the natural result when a sheet is allowed to air dry without smoothing or pressing. Rough surface paper is a good choice for transparent watercolors used in a bold and immediate style, as it allows the pigment of color washes to settle into the hollows of the paper. Pastel artists also generally prefer a paper with "tooth" or texture to grab onto the pastel pigment.

Cold Press paper, which is the most popular and versatile, has a slight texture. Handmade papers achieve this by re-pressing a new wet sheet, which smoothes the surface to some degree. Machine-made papers achieve a similar effect by placing the wet sheets between cold metal rollers.

Not/Cold Press: A "Not" sheet means it is "not hot press," and the term is often used instead of cold press.

Hot Press paper is very smooth, made by running a freshly formed sheet through heated metal rollers or plates to smooth out any texture and create a flat, hard, featureless surface. A good choice for highly detailed illustrations, it is also used for printmaking, etching, drafting, sketching, and drawing. Other characteristics come into play with bristol, which is usually available in a plate or vellum finish, in a variety of weights.

Drawing and sketching papers are available in a variety of weights and have surface characteristics that depend on the type of media being used, such as pen-and-ink, pencils, crayons, charcoal, markers, or even light washes.

Size & Absorbency

Sizing is added to make paper more water-resistant. It keeps the paper from absorbing too much moisture or pigment and helps to keep watercolors or inks brilliant. It also keeps lines and edges looking crisp. It is less important for papers used for dry media. Sizing also can factor into a paper's archival qualities — whether it will sustain or deteriorate over time.

Internal sizing is added while the paper pulp is still in a liquid state and is maintained in the matter of the paper.

External, Surface, or Tub sizing is applied to the surface of the paper after the sheet is formed and dried. Some paper is both internally and surface-sized.

Formats & Stretching

Art papers come in a variety of formats, including single sheets, pads or sketchbooks, blocks, rolls, or board-mounted. For watercolor or acrylic painting, it's important to stretch your paper before painting so it stays flat, which also makes a more professional presentation when framed.

Single sheets are a great way to experiment using a small amount of paper. They may require stretching and taping to remain flat if wet media is used.

Pads or Sketchbooks are a convenient way to bring your work wherever you go — a good choice for dry techniques that use minimal amounts of water.

A Block is a stack of paper glued or bound together on two or more sides and mounted onto a backing board. A block keeps the paper stretched outdoors. Only one sheet can be used at a time.

Rolls are an economical way to work with your favorite papers.

Paper Weight

Thicker or heavier papers can handle more water or paint without buckling, curling, or falling apart. Traditionally, papers are measured by the weight in pounds of one ream, approximately 500 sheets. If a paper comes in different sizes, its weight will vary even though the thickness has not changed. Each sheet would have a weight of 1,114 lb for the ream of paper. Its weight changed due to the size of the sheets, not the paper's thickness, but the paper is still designated as 300 lb.

The inconsistency of this traditional method has led to the use of metric measurements or grams per square meter or gsm. When paper is measured in gsm, its weight will not change with the size of the sheet. The same 22" x 30" sheet of watercolor paper described above would weigh 640 gsm, meaning that a square meter of this paper would weigh 640 grams. Larger sheets of the same paper, such as a 40" x 60" sheet, would also weigh 640 gsm. While different sizes, the square meter remains constant, as does the thickness.

Grafix® Dura-Lar™

The acetate alternative!

For all of its usefulness, acetate does cause a few headaches: ink that won't stay, yellowing or graying with age, edges that curl. The alternatives are expensive and sometimes just don't suit the purpose. Dura-Lar is the acetate alternative. It combines the best features of Mylar® and acetate, and offers a variety of products so that you can purchase the film that suits your needs precisely. It is always consistent in color and overall clarity, and won't discolor with age. Dura-Lar is archival-quality, safe for overlaying artwork, and it lays flat. It will remain dimensionally stable for as long as you need.

Grafix® Dura-Lar™ Clear Film

Designed for layouts, color separations, and overhead transparencies. Can also be used for screen printing or as a protective covering for your work.

Highly absorbent, it creates strong bonds with any glue, can be sanded easily, and accepts any waterbased or solvent-based paint, stain, or finish. Its ISO brightness of 62°/62° enhances shades, shadows, and details. Biodegradable and forested from a sustainable source, Taskboard's unique pulp stratification allows forming over steam or after soaking in cold water; it regains rigidity seconds after removal from steam, or overnight if soaked.

Blick® Metal Gallery Frames

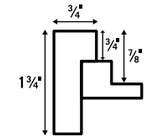

A smooth finish on the face and a single-brushed finish on the sides complement artwork beautifully. This frame will hold a stretched canvas on a standard bar. Each frame ships with a styrene face for safer transportation to art fairs, galleries, and customers. The styrene face has a film on both sides that protects it from scratches and smudges. Remove the film before displaying your art.

PRISMACOLOR®

Prismacolor® Premier Markers

Create four line widths from one double-ended marker. Each marker has "click-fit" cap to prevent marker dry-out and nib damage and each cap has an accurate color I.D. dot for easy identification. One end has an extra-broad nib that lays down color fast with paintbrush-like strokes and the other end has a fine nib for sketching, detail work, or cleanup. Solvent-based ink is fade-resistant and water-resistant. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

DANIEL SMITH® Walnut Ink

The warm character of walnut ink is reminiscent of drawings by Rembrandt. This rich, finely pigmented ink has a sepia color that resembles traditional walnut-based inks, but it will not fade. Use Walnut Ink for drawings with both dip pens and brushes. Because it's waterbased, it handles like a watercolor on washes, with good layering and lifting capabilities. 2 oz (59 ml) bottle.

Unison® Handmade Pastel Sets

John Hersey began producing handmade pastels by lightly rolling each pastel so that the pigment was softly compressed, resulting in fluid color unlike any other pastel. While other manufacturers add white or black to make up a color set, Unison uses pure pigments with a cycle of related hues and a very minimal amount of binder for intense, strong color. Sticks are approximately 2"L x 1/2"Dia.

Kits contain either 360 pieces of stronger, denser 3/32" x 3/32" x 24" basswood or lighter 1/8" x 1/8" x 24" balsa wood, a teaching booklet, and enough adhesive for 24 bridges. Grades 6–12.

Artwork by Tina Browder

Specially formulated for Blick, we import it from Europe several times a year to provide the softest quality possible. It gives a finely detailed, sharp, clear print. For best results, be sure your blades are sharp! Dull blades are dangerous and frustrating, especially to students. Because of the natural aging process, linoleum should be used within a year of its purchase to take advantage of its peak softness. For your convenience, we offer our 1/8" thick linoleum in pre-cut pieces, by the roll, and mounted on blocks.

golden-cut

The fine-textured surface produces sharp, clear prints and won't distort when subjected to high pressure in the printmaking press. And the lighter golden color makes pencil marks easily visible — no need to paint the surface white. Finally, the inevitable hardening-with-age process has been significantly reduced with Blick Golden-Cut Linoleum.

Soft-Kut® Printing Blocks

This rubber material won't skid away from students and doesn't need a bench hook to hold it down. It cuts without requiring much pressure or force. Block thickness is approximately 1/4" — thick enough to allow both sides to be cut, so you get two printing surfaces per block. Cut blocks into small pieces with scissors, a knife, or a paper trimmer for rubber stamping.

Make clay impressions for casting!

Learn the Japanese art of fish rubbing.
Enjoy making impressions from these extremely lifelike rubber fish replicas. Cast from real fish and reptiles, these life-size replicas are detailed and dimensional on one side for printing and flat on the other. Sizes range from 4-1/2" (Scallop Shell) to 12" long (Trout). Using tempera or block printing ink, apply colors directly to the rubber form with a foam brayer or soft brush. The results will be different and original each time. Press them into clay to create 3-D impressions.

AKUA®

Artwork by Tina Browder

Akua® Liquid Pigment

These exceptionally rich, non-toxic, waterbased inks work great for all types of monotype techniques. Unique slow-drying formula allows plenty of time to create an image on the plate. Because Akua stays wet on the plate, there's no need to soak paper before printing. Clean, brilliant, lightfast colors that are exceptionally strong yet transparent; no chalk, fillers, or polymers added. Use Akua modifiers to adjust sheen, thickness, and transparency. Cleans up fast and easy with water. Can also be used for Japanese woodcut and drawing on paper. 4 oz (118 ml) plastic bottles. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

Createx® Monotype Colors

A monotype is a print created by transferring to paper an image that has been painted on a plate made of metal, glass, or plastic. Transfer occurs by hand-rubbing or using an etching or lithography press. Unlike oil-based inks, Createx waterbased colors can dry before printing. The dampened paper will re-wet the color and transfer the image. Offers the ability to ink several plates at once, then transfer image later. Non-toxic, permanent. 8 oz (236 ml) bottles. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

CONRAD™

Conrad™ Presses

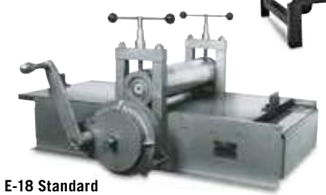

Small professional presses with the features and quality demanded by the professional artist, built to withstand the rigors of classroom use.

Backed by a 25-year manufacturer's warranty, Conrad presses are made entirely in the USA with no outsourced parts. All presses are shipped FOB from Whitehall, Michigan. Most other small etching presses are made with inadequate gearing or no gearing at all, but Conrad presses are designed with the same professional features available on much larger presses. The most remarkable feature is the planetary all gear 6:1 reduction drive available on Deluxe models. The base of the press extends the full length of the bed plate. The vertical frame is constructed of 1-1/4" square Aircraft Alloy Aluminum for maximum strength with minimum weight. The upper roll is spring counter-balanced to maintain height adjustment. Optional micro-gauges offer the barrel-thimble design calibrated to .005" per line. This means that you can adjust each pressure screw by about the same thickness as a human hair! Now, due to the ever-increasing popularity of the monotype press, Conrad is offering a line of these inexpensive, large-capacity, portable tabletop presses (see below for details). Truck Shipment and FOB Factory. See page 648 for details.

We recommend that you use three blankets — a cushion, a pusher, and a catcher — to equalize the pressure and lessen the strain on the upper roll shaft of your press. If you are purchasing a Blick press, the cushion blanket is included. You will need to purchase a catcher and a pusher. The catcher blanket should be placed directly on top of your damp printing paper to catch the sizing from the paper, the cushion blanket on top of the catcher, and the pusher on the very top. The catcher blanket should be washed regularly so it doesn't become stiff from the paper's sizing residue.

screen printing tips

basic steps in screen printing

1. Create a design to be printed.
2. Assemble the screen frame (or use a pre-assembled frame).
3. Prepare the screen by degreasing and abrading the fabric mesh.
4. Apply the design to the screen in one of several ways:
   - A. Non-photographic methods:
     - a. Cut or tear a paper stencil. (An elementary classroom method for very short runs.)
     - b. Paint on the screen using block-out, Speedball Drawing Fluid/Screen Filler, or liquid tusche, tusche pencils, or tusche crayons. This is a freestyle, painterly method.
     - c. Cut a stencil out of film and adhere it to the screen, following manufacturer's instructions. This hand-cut method is for bold, hard-edge designs.
   - B. Photographic methods:
     - a. Direct Method:
       1. Start with a film positive of your design.
       2. Apply photo-sensitive direct film or direct emulsion to your prepared screen. Follow manufacturer's instructions.
       3. Expose the film positive in contact with the screen to a proper light source.
     - b. Indirect Method:
       1. Start with a film positive (same as above).
       2. Expose the film positive in contact with the photosensitive indirect screen printing film, using a proper light source.
       3. Use the prescribed developer (A & B developer or water, depending on the film) to wash out the positive parts of your design, leaving the film open in those areas for printing ink to pass through.
       4. While the film is still wet, apply it to your prepared screen according to instructions.
5. Finish the screen:
   - Apply liquid block-out or tape to all areas outside of the film edges that you do not want to print, using a brush, flat plastic scraper, or piece of cardboard. Also fill pin holes, if any, with a small brush.
   - Use water-moistened gummed tape or polyester film tape to seal the edges of the screen frame to prevent ink from getting into hard-to-clean areas.
6. Print the design on the material you have chosen, using a squeegee to force the ink through the open areas of your screen.
7. Dry the prints or garments, heat setting them if necessary.
8. Clean the ink from the screen using the proper solvent.
9. Reclaim the screen for future use by removing the stencil. Use appropriate removers.

how to determine which process to use

There are many questions to be asked about the screen printing process. Unfortunately, concrete answers are not always available. It is important to gather as much information as possible, then draw your own conclusions based on what works for you! (See page 381 for several helpful books.) You might start by asking yourself these questions:

1. What am I going to print (T-shirts or other garments, posters, outdoor signs, etc.)? The item to be printed will determine the type of ink you will need, and the ink will dictate which process and film or emulsion to use.
2. How long do the items need to last? An outdoor sign may need to last many years, while an indoor poster may be temporary. A T-shirt may be expected to be worn once for an event, while a sweatshirt or jacket must be able to withstand many launderings. You do not have to use expensive materials if the project doesn't require them.
3. Do I prefer to print with waterbased inks or solvent-based inks if both will work?
4. Is my design simple enough for the hand-cut method or does it require the photo process?
5. How many colors does my design have? A simple image with one or two colors can be done with the hand-cut film method using just one screen. As long as the different colored areas do not touch or overlap, the second colored area can be covered up with masking tape on the back of the screen while the first color is being printed. A half-tone picture, four-color process photographic image, or design with two or more colors overlapping and butting up will require the photo screen process and a separate screen for each color. The colors will also have to be registered; that is, the shirt or poster will have to be in the exact same place each time a new color is printed. (Printing machines for this purpose are very helpful.)

follow these guidelines

T-Shirts and other cotton/blend garments, posters, and fine art prints — Nazdar 5500 Series solvent-based inks and Speedball Permanent Acrylic waterbased inks are the highest quality. The less expensive Speedball Water-Soluble inks are good for temporary indoor signage. Blick Textile Inks may also be used. Posters usually have lots of lettering, and therefore are too difficult for hand-cut film. Fine art prints often use the freestyle tusche method, but hand-cut film and photographic methods are also popular.
Outdoor signs — Nazdar 9700 Series and Nazdar 59000 Series solvent-based inks (available on our website) have excellent longevity in all kinds of weather. If the lettering is large and simple, hand-cut film may be used. For more complex or multi-color designs, use photo-sensitive direct emulsion, Ulano CDF4/LX film, or indirect film.
Vinyl surfaces (signs, tarps, covers, banners, anything made of vinyl) — Nazdar GV Series (available on our website) solvent-based ink (or equivalent brand) is absolutely necessary. Nothing else will adhere. Use watersoluble hand-cut film, photo-sensitive Ulano CDF4/LX direct film, or indirect films, except Ulanolux UP3.

45 is Extra Soft;
75 is Bone Hard.

Soft blades deposit more color than hard blades and are better for textile printing. Hard blades are better for hard, smooth surfaces and will conserve your ink.

Speedball® Graphic Squeegees

The Speedball Graphic Squeegee is designed for graphic screen printing but can also be used on paper, cardboard, or wood. Available in a variety of sizes, it features a wood handle and a firm, durable urethane blade that is suitable for shorter print runs and high-usage applications. BLICK® squeegees

A–D Blick® Squeegees

Blick Squeegees are manufactured to our high standards. Kiln-dried and precision-cut lumber is used for the non-warp handles, which are smooth, comfortably shaped, and easy to work with. The blades are molded under high heat and pressure and have a tensile strength of more than 2,000 lb, which eliminates ink streaking and provides a superior, long-lasting printing edge. They're inserted into the wood handle and stapled in position, then professionally sharpened after assembly. Use for both graphic and textile applications, for all hand printing, and for many machine applications. Excellent abrasion and solvent-resistance. (Squeegee blade color may vary from image shown.)

Screen Printing is so named because a print is made by pushing ink through a screen to make an image. The fabrics most commonly used in screen printing are either monofilament or multifilament polyester. These fabrics are reclaimable, good for long runs, and usable in many different areas.

Monofilament Fabric is woven of a single thread. It is uniform in weave, giving a smoother ink flow and resulting in a sharper print. Monofilament fabric mesh count is determined by the number of threads per linear inch. The fewer threads per inch, the larger the size of the openings and the more space for ink to get through the fabric. Monofilament fabrics are designated by a number, such as 86 or 109.

Multifilament Fabric is woven of a twisted-strand thread. Multifilament fabric is less uniform in weave but has more tooth for easier adhering of stencils and heavier ink deposit. The coarseness of the fabric is indicated by a number followed by an XX, with 6XX being the coarsest. The above chart shows a rough equivalent between monofilament and multifilament fabrics.

Monofilament Polyester Screen Fabric

White, anti-halo monofilament polyester is especially good for four-color process and close-tolerance screen printing. Excellent for fine detail. Uniformly woven of the finest polyester monofilament thread.

There are two types of hand-cut film. If you want to print with waterbased inks, use lacquer-based film, which requires a strong, flammable solvent to make it adhere to the screen. Use caution and good ventilation. Once the screen is ready, you can print with any waterbased or solvent-based inks — except lacquer, vinyl, or plastisol. If you want to print with lacquer, vinyl, plastisol, or solvent-based ink, use watersoluble film. It adheres to the screen with cool water and washes out with warm water when the job is done.

Scratch-Art® Mask-Ease®

Just cut your artwork directly into the special plastic sheet using any cutting blade, then apply the sheet to the screen fabric. The cut out spaces will provide the windows for the final print. Each set contains one yellow vinyl sheet with adhesive and liner, one polypropylene sheet with adhesive and liner, and instruction sheets.

K Black Ink™ Egyptian Papyrus Papers

ECO friendly

Papyrus is the oldest writing material in existence today, dating back at least 5,000 years. In fact, the very word "paper" is derived from its name. These light-colored sheets are formed by laying thin strips of plant stalk in horizontal and vertical (crosswise) layers. They have better mechanical strength than many modern papers of the same weight. Use them for writing, drawing, or painting. Paper sizes are approximate, and edges may or may not be frayed.

L Black Ink™ Circulous Amate Paper

Handmade by the Otomi Indian artisans of Mexico, the culture of amate paper dates back to pre-Columbian Mesoamerican times. The Otomi people still use amate paper today for creating cutout figures for religious ceremonies, while other village artisans use it for Mexican folk art depicting urban scenes, festivals, and celebrations. This acid-free, 150 gsm paper is a wonderful choice for acrylic and gouache painting, ink and pastel drawings, crafts, invitations, cards, block printing, bookmaking, and bookbinding. Sheets vary in shade, color, weight, and pattern. The size (approximately 15-1/2" x 23-1/2") also may vary due to the deckle edges and the vagaries of the drying process.

Worbla's Black Art

A companion product to Worbla's Finest Art, this black thermoplastic material has a smoother texture, with less adhesive and slightly less stretch. With a texture much like clay, fruit leather, or beeswax when heated, it takes fine details and fine filigree work well, becoming rigid and stable when cool. It can be built up in layers, shaped over forms of foam, foil, wire or similar armatures, or used as a single layer. It can be painted with virtually any paint, wax, or finish, and is often used for projects that require a more metallic finish, as its smoother surface requires less priming before metallic paint can be applied. Non-toxic, skin-safe, and requires no special equipment.

Worbla's Finest Art

A favorite for cosplay and classroom use, with the quickest and easiest learning curve, Worbla's Finest Art is brown in color with an orange peel-like texture. It's non-toxic, skin-safe, and can be shaped by hand without special safety equipment to form rigid, strong pieces. When heated with a heat gun, hot air, water, an iron, or steam, it takes complex curves without requiring a vacuform, and is self-adhesive when activated — meaning that glues are not required to join the pieces. It can be painted with just about any paint, wax, or finish after priming.

Cone 2–6 (2127°–2269°F)

Great for larger wheel and sculptural forms, this red earthenware clay has a very organic, raw quality. Color ranges from reddish-orange when fired to earthenware temperatures, and deepens to a brick red if the temperature is increased. Bisque fire to Cone 04. The recommended firing is Cone 6. De-aired and ready to use. 50 lb carton contains two 25 lb bags. Does not qualify for free shipping offer. See shipping exceptions on page 648.

understanding pottery wheels

Ceramicists usually know what they like about a particular pottery wheel, but they may not know everything they should know when buying their first wheel or replacing an existing one. We asked some of the most recognized and respected names in the industry to help us take the mystery out of buying a pottery wheel. Here's what the experts had to say.

Pottery Wheel Key
Splash Pan	Keeps water and trimmings contained. One-piece or two-piece.
Wheel Head	The rotating disc on which clay is thrown and shaped.
Bat	A removable disc for removing and transporting finished pieces.
Foot Pedal	Controls the speed of the wheel head while throwing.
Motor	Powers the wheel. Horsepower (HP) varies by model.

Q. How important is motor size? And how does it relate to throwing capacity?

A. This may be the most important decision of all, and it can be confusing. Generally speaking, the higher the horsepower (HP), the larger the amount of power — or torque — your wheel will have. The most important thing is to choose the size that meets your needs, with power to spare as your skill level increases or as you begin throwing larger or more complex pieces.

The difference between "peak-duty" and "continuous-duty" horsepower ratings is also an important distinction. Continuous-duty motors are designed to run fully loaded 24 hours a day without overheating, while peak-duty motors will provide power for a shorter period of time. Look for this information on the motor's nameplate.

A wheel's throwing capacity can range from 25 lbs up to 300 lbs and even more. Keep in mind — the average mug weighs approximately 1 lb, so be realistic about the amount of power you need. Throwing capacity is a subjective measure that may vary based on the experience and ability of the artist — keep this in mind when choosing motor size.

A good rule of thumb is that a 1/3 HP motor is adequate for most hobbyists and beginning and intermediate students throwing vessels smaller than 50 lbs, while 1/2–1 HP motors are best suited for advanced students and professional potters who may be throwing larger pieces.

Q. Direct drive or belt-driven — which is better?

A. Many pottery wheels feature a belt-driven motor that has a mechanically controlled commutator (or rotor) system based on brushes. The latest innovation in pottery wheel motors is the DC (direct-current) direct-drive motor, which is brushless, beltless, electronically controlled, and extremely quiet. When the motor is turned off, the wheel head will spin freely, much like a banding or decorating wheel.

Wheels with belt-driven motors have served the pottery community dependably for many years, and recent innovations have eliminated some of the noise they produce. Direct-drive motors lack the torque of belt-driven motors and are much more expensive to repair; however they have been proven to require less maintenance, thus extending the useful life of the wheel.

The decision to purchase a belt-driven or direct-drive wheel is a personal one that depends upon your budget, how much and how long you intend to use your wheel, and how important the quietness factor is to you.

Q. What size wheel head?

A. The wheel head is the rotating disc on which clay is thrown, shaped, and sometimes decorated. Made of metal and marked with concentric circles, the size of the wheel head you choose (typically 12" or 14" in diameter) depends on how large the pieces are that you'll be throwing. Most wheel heads are drilled with at least two bat pin holes for attaching a bat — the removable disc that allows you to remove completed pieces without damaging or deforming them.

Q. What's a reversing switch and how important is it?

A. A reversing switch allows easy switching from one direction to the other, as well as providing a neutral position for smooth transitions when changing directions. In teaching environments, a reversing switch allows for both left-handed and right-handed potters to use the same wheel interchangeably. While in the neutral position, the wheel head will spin freely in both directions, to allow banding or decorating. A reversing switch is generally an optional feature, depending on the manufacturer.

For more information, visit DickBlick.com.

Q. What about portability?

A. How portable your wheel needs to be depends upon the size of your room or studio and how much space you can dedicate to it. Some pottery wheels are more or less stationary because of their weight or configuration, while some have removable legs or "booties" that allow them to be used on a tabletop or floor and stored out of the way when not in use. Some wheels incorporate work surfaces, seats, and splash pans into their design, which adds to their overall size.

For potters who ascribe to the "simpler is better" school, a small tabletop wheel might be best. For those who want their tools, clay, and water containers close at hand, a larger wheel with an attached work surface for these items might be the best choice.

The goal is to find the wheel that is most comfortable for you while throwing, in a configuration that suits your working style and your space.

Q. How important is the manufacturer's warranty?

A. Warranties vary widely from manufacturer to manufacturer. As with any important purchase, be sure to fill out and return the warranty form immediately to make sure you're protected against defects in materials and workmanship. There may be other stipulations, so read the fine print, keep your purchase receipt in a safe place, and make sure all warranty work is performed appropriately (i.e., by the manufacturer or an authorized dealer recommended by the manufacturer). Also ask if the wheel can be repaired locally, or if you'll be required to ship it elsewhere for repair.

what you should know before buying a kiln

A kiln is an important purchase for school or studio — one that the purchaser will live with for many years to come. Considering that it's an important investment, buying one can be a daunting task. Here are a few points that will help you make the right choice for your application and budget.

Q. Where will the kiln be located?

A. First, you must decide where your kiln is going to be installed. For a school, that might be in the classroom or in the boiler room. In a studio, where space selection is more limited, the size of the available area will help determine the size of the kiln. But the following points remain constant:

1. Kilns should be located in a separate, well-ventilated room other than in an immediate work area.
2. Never install a kiln on any combustible floor such as wood or carpet.
3. The spacing between the kiln and wall must be a minimum of 18" regardless of what room it's in.
4. Measure carefully to make sure the kiln will fit through all doors leading to the placement location. Sectional kilns can be easily taken apart to fit through narrow doorways or staircases.

A CAREFUL CHECK BY A QUALIFIED ELECTRICIAN OR THE LOCAL POWER COMPANY IS RECOMMENDED.

Q. What power is available at your location?

A. It is important to check with maintenance personnel or a professional electrician to find out the following electrical information for the destination of placing your kiln.

Voltage — Voltage services can be 120V, 208V or 240V. Most residences only have 120V and 240V, whereas commercial and institutional buildings may have all three available. It is important to check the voltage available in the area where the kiln will be located as different buildings may have different supplies. Some 240V kiln models will have a higher temperature rating.

Phase — All 208V and 240V service will be either single-phase or three-phase. Nearly all residential service is single-phase, whereas commercial and institutional services may have both available. Single-phase has two current-carrying wires and a ground and three-phase has three current-carrying wires and a ground. They are both equally efficient; however, three-phase supplies allow for smaller wire and some kiln models designed for three-phase will have higher temperature ratings.

Amps — The kiln size you are considering could determine the amperage supplied to the building. Additional amperage may be added to the location by expanding the existing service. Again, refer to your maintenance personnel or electrician to determine the existing amps that are supplied.

Q. What is the maximum temperature you will require?

A. It depends on what type of clay and glazes will be fired in the kiln. Whether you use high or low fire clays will help determine the maximum temperature for your needs.

Clay – High Fire – Cone 5 (2167°F) and higher
Low Fire – Cone 05–06 (1828°F–1888°F)

Glazes – High Fire – Cone 5 (2167°F) and higher
Low Fire – Cone 04–05 (1888°F–1945°F)

Q. What is the maximum chamber size required?

A. The quantity of pieces you want to fire at one time and the size of the artwork being produced must be evaluated to determine maximum chamber size. Keep in mind the volume of work that will need to be fired in busy months.

Q. What safety measures should be taken when firing?

A. Always be present during the end of the firing cycle and cool-down period, to prevent over-firing. The kiln surface emits heat. Do not install near combustible surfaces or under a sprinkler head. Do not touch the surface while firing — wait until cooled to 130°F before opening the lid and always wear heat-resistant gloves.

Q. What is the recommended procedure for firing with a manual kiln?

A. 1. Place the correct jr. cone in the kiln sitter and set the falling weight.
2. Set the timer to 30 minutes past the anticipated firing time.
3. Prop the lid if kiln is not equipped with a downdraft vent.
4. Turn switches to LOW.
5. Two hours later, turn switches to MEDIUM.
6. Two hours later, remove the prop with a gloved hand and turn the switches to HIGH.
7. The kiln will shut off automatically when the proper heatwork has been achieved.

Q. What are the advantages of an automatic kiln?

A. An automatic controller allows the user to create precise, repeatable schedules. This provides consistent results, or more creative control when experimenting. Delay and auto shut-off features increase convenience and safety.

Q. Why vent a kiln?

A. Fumes, odors, and vapors are created when clay bodies and glazes are fired. It is important to clear them out of inhabited spaces for the comfort and safety of those around. Additionally, the venting process affects the firing results. A venting hood will dispel most of the fumes as they escape the kiln. Mechanical downdraft systems improve consistent heat distribution and circulation, as well as remove fumes before they can enter the room, or transfer color from one glaze to another inside the kiln.

Q. Why is it important to have air in the kiln?

A. Clay bodies, glazes, decals, lusters, etc. need air to fire properly. Many problems with color, glaze fit, and porcelain mildew occur because of too little oxygen in the kiln.

Q. What happens to air in the kiln?

A. The products we fire contain carbon and organics. These react with oxygen to form carbon monoxide early in the firing. During firing, the gases in the kiln expand — just like air in a hot air balloon. These gases are forced out through cracks and holes, making it difficult for new air to enter the kiln. A downdraft vent system pulls out the fumes, allowing fresh air to enter.

Q. Are there any health and safety issues?

A. Testing has shown that carbon monoxide produced during firing can be higher than accepted government (OSHA) standards. [35 PPM (0.0035%) for continual exposure or 200 PPM for short term exposure.] Carbon monoxide can produce headaches, fatigue, sore throats, and nausea. Fumes from kilns may also contain organics, volatile metals, fluorides, and sulphur oxides, which should be removed from the work area.

Q. What's the difference between a downdraft vent and a hood?

A. A downdraft vent removes fumes and odors from the kiln while at the same time bringing in air to improve firing conditions in the kiln. A hood system does not vent the kiln. It simply removes fumes that have already entered the room. There are no firing benefits, and only about 85% of the fumes are removed. Conditions in the kiln are not improved with hoods.

Q. What are some of the benefits of a downdraft vent?

A. Air brought into the kiln replaces carbon monoxide and adds oxygen needed for best fired results.

Hot gases are circulated, providing more uniform temperatures.

Oxygen in the kiln reduces corrosion of metal heating elements and kiln sitter parts, increasing their life.

A downdraft vent costs less than two cents per hour to operate. It requires 80% less makeup air than a hood above the kiln and saves up to $1.00 per day for heating or cooling makeup air as compared to a hood.

Manual venting is eliminated — no more touching the hot kiln to lower the lid or replace peephole plugs. The kiln stays closed throughout the firing and cool down is quicker (4-10 hours less) without opening the lid.

Downdraft venting is much more effective than a hood in removing fumes. It does not significantly increase firing time or affect the ability of the kiln to reach temperature.

Most kiln manufacturers recommend and sell downdraft venting. It is easily installed with no overhead pulleys.

ONLY DOWNDRAFT VENTING IMPROVES FIRING CONDITIONS IN THE KILN WHILE REMOVING FUMES FROM THE KILN AND WORKROOM!

Skutt® Rolling Kiln Stands

Most kiln stands are meant to stay put — not so with these rolling kiln stands from Skutt! Every stand is constructed from heavy-duty, powder-coated, welded steel square tubing and fitted with high-quality, locking polyurethane casters that won't develop flat spots like rubber or plastic wheels. The stands provide the recommended clearances from the kiln to the floor. Ideal for moving your kiln to clean under it, or just for moving it out of the way when not in use. FOB Factory. Skutt® EnviroVent 2 Kiln Venting System

The EnviroVent 2 downdraft ventilation system extracts and vents fumes from your electric kiln that can be emitted from certain clay bodies and glazes when fired. Kiln venting is not only desirable but required by many state building codes. The EnviroVent 2 is UL listed and meets all state and federal requirements for fume ventilation. Downdraft ventilation provides the following added benefits:

- Removes fumes and odors.
- Better bisque, brighter colors & fewer defects.
- Improved heat uniformity.
- UL listed and recommended for every classroom.
- Vent Accessories:
  - 8 ft Extension for installations that require longer ducting runs.
  - Dual Intake Kit for venting kilns between 12 and 24 cubic feet or two kilns with chamber volumes each smaller than 12 cubic feet.
  - EnviroLink automatically turns the vent off when the kiln is done firing. Also can be programmed through the kiln to turn on or off during key segments of custom firing programs.

PARAGON™

Paragon™ Touch-N-Fire Kilns

Feature-packed kilns for every need and budget. All kilns feature easy-access, easy maintenance drop-down switch boxes, and the Sentry controller. Heating is wonderfully even and economical with 3" energy-saving firebrick; and in Cone-Fire mode, selecting Pre-Heat and Slow-Cool is easy, too. Each comes with its own stand, and a full-formed, galvanized steel base covers the brick bottom beneath each kiln for extra safety. Peepholes are tapered for wide view without heat loss. Models 23-3, 24-3, 27-3, and 28-3 feature Paragon's patented LiteLid spring counter-weight and sectional design. The kilns dismantle easily for firing sculptures or moving through narrow doorways. All models listed feature a protective row of 2" high blank bricks lining the top. This reduces brick damage from leaning into the kiln. Specify voltage and phase. Certified to UL & CSA Standard 499. Each kiln is configured and built to order. Therefore, kilns are not returnable. Truck Shipment and FOB Factory. See page 648 for details.

NEW! Royal & Langnickel® Aqualon Synthetic Goat Fan Brushes

SHORT handle

Soft fan brushes made from durable, multi-diameter synthetic fibers, perfect for covering large surfaces with ceramic glazes, underglazes, and fluid colors. Fibers are soft enough to lay colors down like natural hair, but will not shed. Short acrylic handles won't absorb moisture even when left in water, glaze, or paint so there's no swelling or chipping.

SPEEDBALL®

Speedball® Ceramic Underglazes

Cone 06–10 (1855°–2381°F)

Bright, intense colors that are highly saturated for spectacular results, these underglazes are compatible with Speedball Earthenware Glazes, and can be used for a variety of decorating techniques. They may be applied to greenware or bisque and can be blended. The liquid, opaque colors will not move or bleed, making them perfect for detailed painting, design work, and sgraffito. Because they're lead-free and clean up easily with water, they're ideal for classroom use. These underglazes are dinnerware safe when used and fired as directed. However, tableware producers should have finished ware lab tested to determine dinnerware suitability due to firing variances and contamination. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

Blick® Essentials Gloss Glazes

Cone 06–05

Blick Essentials Gloss Glazes come in a variety of bright, true colors that can be intermixed to create an infinite palette of colors. Non-toxic, non-hazardous, and food safe, these glazes glide smoothly onto bisque, with a self-leveling formula that eliminates brushstrokes from the fired finish. They dry quickly, speeding up handling time and allowing for the application of additional decoration — great for classroom settings. They also won't dissolve or pick up previous coats of glaze. Because they fire to a high gloss finish, no clear glaze is required. ACMI-certified. Pints. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

Amaco® Teacher's Palette Light® Low Fire LEAD-FREE Glazes

Cone 05 (1911°F)

These translucent gloss glazes break and flow to enhance the texture of a clay body. Their jewel-like colors are vibrant but lend a softer look, allowing the clay color and/or an underglaze to show through. They look especially beautiful over carved or textured surfaces, and also over Amaco Velvet Underglazes. Intermixable with one another and with Amaco Teacher's Palette and Amaco Teacher's Choice glazes. Brush or slip trail for decorative and Majolica-like effects. The colors will not run or bleed, and only blend together if mixed before application. Apply 1–2 coats for more transparency and 2–3 coats for more coverage. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

MAYCO®

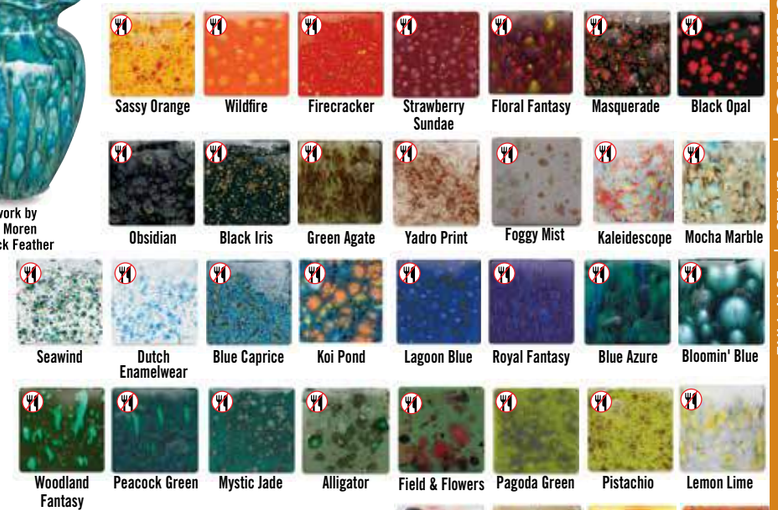

Mayco® LEAD-FREE Jungle Gems Crystal Glazes

Cone 06 (2269°F)

Mayco Jungle Gems and Crystalites have merged, creating the largest, most stunning crystal glaze assortment available. The glaze lines share similar chemistry, common glaze applications, and perform alike. Merging these lines simplifies the choice for artists and provides endless creative options. The former Crystalite glazes will retain their names but will be part of the Jungle Gems product line. Jungle Gems contain small pieces of glass frit that transform into splashes of color and patterns when fired. They can be used alone for dramatic effects or be combined with other glazes, such as Mayco Stroke & Coat, to add visual interest. Create your own unique glazes by layering different Crystal Glazes, as the crystals will burst through the glaze surfaces. Colors can be assorted for quantity pricing.

health & safety information

THE ART & CREATIVE MATERIALS INSTITUTE, INC.

The Art and Creative Materials Institute, Inc. (ACMI) is an international association of about 200 art, craft and creative material manufacturers which seeks to promote safety in art and creative products through its certification program. Many small companies, as well as large ones, participate in the ACMI product certification program. We are very proud of the fact that nearly a quarter of these companies are long-standing members (20+ years) of ACMI.

For over 75 years, the ACMI program for children's art materials has used the AP Seal to certify products that are "non-toxic" (that is, containing no materials in sufficient quantities to be toxic or injurious to humans, including children, and therefore safe when used as directed). In 1982, the program was expanded to include a much broader range of art materials, including adult products, certifying them to be non-toxic (AP Seal) or ensuring that they carry appropriate health warning labels (CL Seal) where necessary. ACMI-certified product seals (AP and CL) indicate that these products have been evaluated by a qualified toxicologist and are labeled in accordance with the Federal Hazardous Substances Act (FHSA) and the Labeling of Hazardous Art Materials Act, a 1988 addition to the FHSA. Each product in the program undergoes extensive toxicological evaluation that covers both acute and chronic toxicity concerns before it is granted the right to bear the ACMI certification seals. The ACMI product certification program includes an on-going review of the latest scientific and regulatory information available to keep the program current. The program also includes a five-year review of product formulations to meet the requirements of the federal Labeling of Hazardous Art Materials Act.

ACMI's toxicology team, located at Duke University's Division of Occupational and Environmental Medicine, has over 30 years' experience evaluating more than 60,000 art material formulations for ACMI members. ACMI also has a Toxicological Advisory Board composed of leading toxicological experts who act as a review board on issues of toxicity, review the criteria used by ACMI's toxicologist team and make recommendations to ACMI.

ART MATERIALS FOR ALL AGES

Federal law requires that all art materials offered for sale to consumers of all ages in the United States undergo a toxicological review of the complete formulation of each product to determine the product's potential for producing adverse chronic health effects and that the art materials be properly labeled for acute and chronic hazards, as required by the Labeling of Hazardous Art Materials Act (LHAMA) and the Federal Hazardous Substances Act (FHSA), respectively. Art materials that are designed or intended primarily for children 12 years of age or younger must meet additional requirements (see below). After the chronic hazard review has been performed, the toxicologist will then recommend the appropriate statement to label that the product conforms to ASTM D-4236. The FHSA also requires that a manufacturer affix cautionary labeling to art materials for certain acute and chronic hazards if those substances meet the definition of "hazardous substance" under the FHSA.

ART MATERIALS FOR CHILDREN UNDER 12 YEARS OF AGE & THE CPSIA

In addition to the LHAMA requirements detailed above, art materials that are designed or intended primarily for children 12 years of age or younger are also required to comply with the requirements of the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 (CPSIA). The CPSIA requires that manufacturers (this term includes importers) of children's art materials must test and certify compliance of such products before importing the products or distributing them in commerce. Manufacturers must submit samples of their product to a third-party laboratory whose accreditation has been accepted by the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC).

⚠ WARNING

Proposition 65 is the California Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act that requires businesses to provide warnings to Californians about significant exposures to chemicals that cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm. By law, a warning must be given for listed chemicals unless the exposure is low enough to pose no significant risk of cancer or is significantly below levels observed to cause birth defects or other reproductive harm. These chemicals can be in the products that Californians purchase or that are released into the environment. For more information, go to P65Warnings.ca.gov. Products marked with either of these symbols (■ or ▼) carry the Proposition 65 warning.

ASTM

ASTM International, formerly known as American Society for Testing and Materials, is an international standards organization that develops and publishes voluntary consensus technical standards for a wide range of materials, products, systems, and services. Some 12,575 ASTM voluntary consensus standards operate globally. The standards presented here were developed by industry leaders in coatings, mfg., scientists, artists and toxicologist for the betterment and safety of art materials.

ASTM D 4236

The Standard Practice for Labeling Art Materials for Chronic Health Hazards describes a procedure for developing cautionary labeling for chronic health hazards in art materials. All art materials sold in the U.S. are required by Federal law (the Labeling of Art Materials Act of 1988, also called LHAMA) to conform to this standard, and to display on the container label a statement to that effect: "Conforms to ASTM D 4236."

ASTM D 4236 requires that a qualified toxicologist, who determines which products must carry a warning statement and safe handling instructions, must evaluate all art materials. The standard includes tables of chronic hazard and precautionary statements that companies are required to place on product labels — these hazard and precautionary statements are based on current and developing knowledge that exists in the scientific and medical communities. The Consumer Product Safety Commission has been charged by Congress to enforce use of this standard.

Conforms to ASTM D 4236

The AP (Approved Product) Seal identifies art materials that are safe when used as directed and that are certified in a toxicological evaluation conducted by a board certified toxicologist that they contain no materials in sufficient quantities to be toxic or injurious to humans, including Approved Product AP ® Conforms to ASTM D 4236 ACMI ART & CREATIVE INSTITUTE CERTIFIED MATERIALS®, children, or to cause acute or chronic health problems. Such products are certified by ACMI to be labeled in accordance with the chronic hazard labeling standard, ASTM D 4236, the FHSA and the federal Labeling of Hazardous Art Materials Act (LHAMA).

Conforms to ASTM D 4236

The CL (Cautionary Labeling) Seal identifies products that are certified to be properly labeled in a program of toxicological evaluation by a toxicologist for any known health risks and with information on the safe and proper use of these materials. This Seal appears on only a small percentage of adult art materials in ACMI's certification program and on none of the children's materials. These products are also certified by ACMI to be labeled in accordance with the chronic hazard labeling standard, ASTM D 4236, the FHSA and LHAMA. Products with this seal Cautionary Labeling CL ACMI ART & CREATIVE INSTITUTE CERTIFIED MATERIALS ® Conforms to ASTM D 4236 are not hazardous if used correctly. It is important to read the product label in full before opening a product that has the CL Seal. These products should never be given to children in grade 6 or lower, or anyone who for any reason is unable to read, understand or implement safety labeling and instructions.

CE MARKING

CE Marking on a product is a manufacturer's declaration that the product complies with the essential requirements of the relevant European health, safety, and environmental protection legislation. The letters "CE" are an abbreviation of "Conformité Européene," which literally means "European Conformity." CE Marking on a product indicates to government officials that the product may be legally placed on the market in their country, ensures the free movement of the product within the European Free Trade Association and European Union single market, and permits the withdrawal of non-conforming products by customs and enforcement/vigilance authorities.

MATERIAL SAFETY DATA SHEETS

In response to the Right-to-Know laws concerning toxic substances in the classroom and workplace, Blick Art Materials will supply this information to you. Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDS) and Safety Data Sheets (SDS) are also available online. Visit DickBlick.com/MSDS for details.

You may also direct your request to: MSDS Coordinator, Blick Art Materials, and PO Box 1267, Galesburg IL 61402-1267. You may also call 309-343-6181, send a fax to 800-621-8293, or send an email to info@dickblick.com. Please specify the Blick item numbers and include a description of each product for which you need a data sheet. We will review your request and supply sheets for the items that require them.

VOC RESTRICTIONS

Due to state laws that place limits on the shipping of Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs), Blick Art Materials cannot ship artist solvents greater than 33.8 oz size containers to addresses in the following states: California, Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, New Hampshire, and Utah. Other high VOC items, which may include multipurpose solvents and some spray products, are restricted from sale in any size.

POISON CONTROL CENTERS

When an adverse reaction to an art material occurs, contact your local poison control center (800-222-1222). Be prepared to provide information about the art material as quickly and thoroughly as possible. For a listing of poison control centers, visit www.aapcc.org.

STORAGE TIPS FOR WATERBASED ARTISTS' COLORS

To guard against bacteria and mold, manufacturers of waterbased artists' products add preservatives to their products. Over-diluting the products will dilute the effectiveness of these preservatives.

All waterbased paints can potentially be subject to bacteria or mold spores after they have been opened and exposed to various forms of cross-contamination from common sources such as air, water, warm temperatures, humans, brushes, and tools. Improper storage and usage will reduce potential sources of contamination and extend waterbased products life. Listed below are tips for storing paint products to maximize shelf life.

- Store the product in its original container in a cool, dry place where it won't be exposed to freezing temperatures.
- Date and rotate inventory, always using the oldest stock first.
- Follow the instructions on the label for stirring, shaking, and blending.
- Pour only enough paint for immediate use. Never pour unused portions back into the product's original container.
- Don't over-dilute the product. The addition of water dilutes the preservative's strength as well as the paint's strength. If diluting paint to simulate watercolor techniques, use mediums to create transparency instead of water, and prepare only enough for immediate use.
- Avoid working directly from the original product container. Do not place brushes, hands, or other objects into the container.
- After each use, make sure the cap is replaced tightly.

SHIPPING AND HANDLING CHARGES — Merchandise orders totaling $49 or more ship freight-free via FedEx Best Value whenever possible. Oversized or overweight orders will ship via a freight line. In those cases, the free freight offer includes curbside delivery only. Other services performed at the time of the delivery such as lift gate and inside delivery will incur additional charges. The average transit times will be extended for freight line deliveries and a delivery signature will be required. All other orders, see shipping charges above. EXCEPTIONS: Additional shipping charges will be added to factory-direct (FOB) shipments; oversized or overweight orders that require lift gate and/or inside delivery; international and U.S. Territory orders; and shipments to Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Shipment of the following stocked art materials will be billed at an additional cost: linoleum rolls; stretched canvas 36" x 36" and larger; oversized panels; select oversized frames; any combination of clay, plaster, and molding material totaling 50 lbs or more; packages of foamboard; all GBC Classiccut Ingento Cutters and Trimmers; the Blick 906 Model II Etching Press, the Blick 999 Model II Etching Press, the Blick Master Etch Model II Press, and all Blick Model II Benches; all kilns and pottery wheels; and some shelters. Paper or boards may be assorted to reach the quantity of 10. Some stocked furniture items will be shipped by truck and billed at an additional cost.

SHIPPING METHODS — Depending upon the items ordered and destination, shipments to a residential address may be delivered by the local post office. Oversized or overweight orders may ship via freight line. In those cases average transit times will be extended and a delivery signature is required. Items shipped using FedEx Fast2Day service will be received by the customer within two business days, and will be shipped via air or ground. Please note that hazardous items cannot be shipped to destinations outside the continental U.S. Schools should allow two to three weeks delivery time for orders placed from July 1 through September 30.

TRUCK SHIPMENT — Delivers your item to your curb or dock. The charge varies and is based on distance, weight, bulk, and other factors. A physical address and destination phone number are required for delivery. The minimum charge is approximately $135. For an additional $45, a smaller truck with a lift gate will lower your merchandise to the ground. For an additional $30, your order can be moved from the curb to a ground-level location just inside your door. Delivery drivers cannot move items up or down stairs or to a specific location. Uncrating, disposing of packing materials, and installation are not included. Questions? Call 800-447-8192.

FOB FACTORY AND OVERSIZED ITEMS — Items that include "CF" in front of the item number will, in most cases, be shipped directly from the factory and will not qualify for our free freight offer unless otherwise stated. Additional shipping charges do apply for these items. If you have any questions call 800-447-8192. Please allow additional time for delivery. Some items shipped directly from the factory may not be available for express shipping.

ASSEMBLY/INSTALLATION — Blick is not responsible for unpacking, uncrating, unloading, removing, or disposing of debris, or for assembling or installing products.

PAPER & BOARD ORDERS — When ordering sheets of paper or board larger than 18" x 24" in quantities of less than 10, a per order handling fee applies. Paper or boards may be assorted to reach the quantity of 10.
