

Get your team aligned on their to-dos, ensure all tasks get completed on time and simplify communication.

Problem

Most of the work software today is developed for the office. Managers in the deskless space have no affordable solutions to help their teams be more efficient.

Solution

Inch is a voice-operated workforce management software that incorporates task management, time tracking and communication into one powerful solution.

Team

The team behind Inch has previously built another software for deskless SMBs (Sling) and scaled it to 19K customers in over 100 countries. It has offices in Iceland, US and Poland.

Market

The opportunity is huge! 2.7 billion people across various industries and geographies do not use a desk. 99% of businesses they work for are SMBs.

Customers

Deskless SMBs who will be digitizing their workflows and becoming more tech-savvy in the coming years are future Inch customers.
