Dear Maurice,

Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority

I am writing to invite you to an advisory panel meeting for the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority (IPSA).

As you will be aware, I am looking to set up a panel of independent bodies that have a keen interest in this issue. The precise remit of the panel will be discussed at the first meeting, but I envisage it providing a useful forum to generate and exchange ideas as a new system is being designed. There will of course be no obligation to join the panel.

As work on implementing the IPSA is continuing at a pace, the first meeting will take place on Monday 26th October at 10am-12pm. The address is below:

Abbey Business Centre
111 Buckingham Palace Rd
Victoria
London
SW1W 0SR

I hope to see you there.

Yours Sincerely,

Andrew McDonald
Interim Chief Executive
Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority
