MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

May is Mental Health Awareness Month. It's no news flash that farm life can be stressful. Of course, it can be rewarding, but it's also filled with unique challenges.

From natural disasters and extreme weather to financial pressures, like fluctuating commodity prices, labor shortages, and trade disruptions, farming and ranching demand a high level of resilience to weather the ups and downs.

If you or someone you know is struggling with a mental health challenge, such as anxiety, depression, or addiction, know that you are not alone. Recent statistics indicate that at least 1 in 4 people suffer from a mental illness.

Thankfully, there's no reason for anyone to suffer in silence or struggle alone. Although some still experience the stigma of talking about mental health, times are changing for the better.

LDAF is proud to stand with a network of partners around the state and country who are helping America's farming families by alleviating their stressors and helping them find help and hope through ever-growing resources.

Earlier this month, LDAF attended Rural Mental Health Day at the Louisiana Capitol, where we connected with and learned from many of the agencies and organizations devoted to this cause. We're spotlighting some of them and their services in this issue.

LDAF's mental health awareness program, Stay Rooted Louisiana, offers several helpful resources, including QPR training and the Geaux Book.

QPR stands for Question, Persuade, and Refer. Just as people trained in CPR and the Heimlich Maneuver help save lives, those trained in QPR learn how to recognize the warning signs of a suicide crisis and how to question, persuade, and refer someone to help.

You can take the free QPR training course online in less than an hour. Just go to qprtraining.com/setup and enter the organization code "LDAF." After a quick registration to generate a username and password, you can begin the course at your own pace and repeat it as often as you need.

LOUISIANA AGRICULTURE & FORESTRY TODAY

Louisiana FFA Day at the Capitol... Learning to be Leaders

It's always a great day to be part of FFA. But this month, I was especially proud to participate in the 2023 Louisiana FFA Day at the Capitol.

On Thursday, May 4, FFA students and advisors from all over the state participated in a day filled with activities, including presentations by the Louisiana House of Representatives and State Senate, an advocacy session with lobbyists and legislators, lunch on the House Patio (sponsored by the Louisiana Egg Commission, Louisiana Cattleman's Association, the Louisiana Rice Industry Promotion, and the LSU Dairy Store), and a tour of the Capitol.

It's delightful to see such engaged young people in action, and I look forward to what the future holds for them. I encourage everyone to take a closer look at what FFA is all about...

The "Future Farmers of America" was founded by a group of young farmers back in 1928. Their mission was to prepare future generations for the challenges of feeding a growing population. The Louisiana FFA Association, which was chartered in 1930, taught us that agriculture is more than planting and harvesting... it's a science, it's a business, and it's an art. FFA continues to help the next generation rise up to meet challenges by helping its members develop their own unique talents and explore their interests in a broad range of career pathways. So today, they're still the Future Farmers of America. But they're also the future biologists, chemists, veterinarians, engineers, and entrepreneurs of America.

GRILLED CATFISH WITH BLACK BEAN SALSA

Submitted by Guidry's Catfish, Inc.

Ingredients:

4 4-6 ounce US farm-raised catfish fillets
 ½ teaspoon garlic salt
 ½ teaspoon ground black pepper
 1 15 ounce can black beans, drained
 1 cup frozen corn kernels, thawed and drained
 ¼ cup onion, minced
 ½ cup red bell pepper, diced
 ¼ cup cilantro or parsley, minced
 3-4 tablespoons seeded, minced jalapenos
 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 1 teaspoon garlic, minced
 Salt and pepper to taste

Instructions:

Preheat grill. Sprinkle catfish fillets on both sides with garlic salt and pepper. Place on clean baking sheet, cover, and chill until ready to cook. In a medium bowl, combine black beans, corn, onion, red pepper, cilantro, jalapenos, oil, and garlic; toss well to mix. Adjust seasonings with salt and pepper to taste. Cover and hold until ready to serve. Place seasoned catfish fillets on pre-heated and well-oiled grill rack or basket and grill uncovered over medium-high heat for about 5 minutes on each side or until fish flakes easily. Place fish fillets on serving plate and spoon reserved black bean salsa evenly over fillets to serve.

CHICKEN AND SAUSAGE SAUCE PIQUANTE

Submitted by Kary's Roux and Bar-B-Q Sauce

Ingredients:

¼ cup vegetable oil
 3 pound fryer (chicken) cut up
 1 pound smoked sausage
 2 cups onion, chopped
 1 cup bell pepper, chopped
 2 cloves garlic, chopped
 8 ounces tomato sauce
 1½ tablespoons Kary's "No Fat" Dry Roux
 ½ cup green onions, chopped
 ¼ cup parsley, chopped
 Queen Bee seasoning to taste
 4-6 cups water (We recommend starting with 4 cups of water, and add if needed for gravy. Some chicken takes longer to cook, so you may need to add an extra cup or two.)

Instructions:

In a medium sized pot, add vegetable oil and heat on medium setting. Season chicken with Queen Bee Seasoning. Add chicken and brown. Remove chicken, add sausage and brown. Remove sausage, and add onions and bell peppers. Sauté until tender and translucent. Add garlic and cook for approximately 1 minute. Add tomato sauce and cook for approximately 1 minute while stirring continuously.

Add Kary's Dry Roux. Stir. Add water, chicken, and sausage back into pot, cover almost all the way, and let cook for 30-45 minutes on medium heat, or chicken is cook and tender. Add green onions and parsley during the last 10-15 minutes of cooking. Serve over rice.

Join, Grow, & Teach with the People's Garden

Sign up your community garden & join the movement!

The People's Garden community is growing! Last May, USDA renewed the People's Garden initiative. On the anniversary of the reopening we invite you to join approximately 1,200 People's Gardens that have signed up nationwide in the past year by registering on the USDA People's Garden website.

Community gardens, urban farms, school gardens, and small-scale agriculture projects in rural, suburban, and urban areas can join the "People's Garden" community.

You can be a part of it:

- JOIN the People's Garden community.
- GROW using sustainable practices that benefit people and wildlife.
- TEACH others about local, resilient food systems.

People's Gardens are marked on a map on the USDA website and may be featured in USDA communications. You'll receive a People's Garden sign to display and learn about People's Garden community information such as webinars.

For more, including gardening resources, success stories, and how to sign up, visit the People's Garden website at www.usda.gov/peoples-garden.

Avoid Scams Related to USDA Financial Assistance for Farmers Facing Discrimination

Part of the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) provides $2.2 billion in financial assistance for farmers, ranchers, and forest landowners who experienced discrimination in USDA's farm lending programs prior to January 1, 2021.

USDA is aware of some lawyers and groups spreading misleading information about this process, pressuring people to sign retainer agreements, and asking people to fill out forms with private and sensitive information. Note that application forms for this program are not yet available and the application filing period has not started.

1. When in doubt, check it out.

- Avoid providing personal or financial information to unknown parties.
- Beware of solicitations by mail, email, or phone calls from individuals claiming to be connected to USDA. USDA will not solicit you for information.
- There is NO FEE to apply for this financial assistance.
- The most current information on the process and timeline of this program can be found at farmers.gov/22007. Before the application process opens, the National Administrator of this program will provide a webpage for helpful information.

2. Beware of organizations seeking to file your application for a fee.

- You will not need a lawyer to file an application for financial assistance under Section 22007 of the IRA. If you feel the need for legal advice, seek the assistance of a trusted, licensed attorney.

- Before the application process opens, USDA will publish a list of trusted community organizations located across the country; these organizations will provide FREE help completing applications.
 - Filing an application will be FREE.
 - Beware of advance-fee scams or solicitations that promise a significant share of a large sum of money.
- ### 3. Report scams to the USDA Office of the Inspector General.
- Beware of scams involving fake settlement or cashier's checks followed by requests to wire part of the payment to an individual disguised as an attorney.
 - If you believe there is an organization conducting a scam related to this process, please contact the USDA Office of the Inspector General (OIG) or any other appropriate authorities. The USDA OIG hotline complaint can be accessed online at <https://usdaoig.oversight.gov/hotline>; OIG's phone number is (800) 424-9121.

MENTAL HEALTH... continued from front

The LDAF Geaux Book is intended to help farmers, ranchers, and landowners organize their personal and business information in a unified place. It's a preformatted Excel spreadsheet that can easily be modified for your operation.

Compiling your important contacts, numbers, vendors, and procedures now means you won't have to scramble in the event of an emergency, like a natural disaster or family illness. Download your free copy today at www.ldaf.la.gov/stay-rooted-louisiana.

We're constantly expanding our network and hope to add new resources and services in the coming year. In the meantime, remember to check on your friends and family. Not sure how to start the conversation? Visit seizetheawkward.org for tips to push past discomfort and learn suggestions for before, during, and after what can be a difficult conversation.

According to the National Institute of Mental Health, helping someone in emotional pain can be as simple as these five steps:

- ASK: "Are you thinking about killing yourself?" It's not easy, but studies show that asking at-risk individuals if they are suicidal does not increase suicides or suicidal thoughts.
- KEEP THEM SAFE: Reducing a suicidal person's access to highly lethal items or places is important to suicide prevention. While this is not always easy, asking if the at-risk person has a plan and removing or disabling the lethal means can make a difference.
- BE THERE: Listen carefully and learn what the individual is thinking and feeling. Research suggests acknowledging and talking about suicide may, in fact, reduce rather than increase suicidal thoughts.
- HELP THEM CONNECT: Save the 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline number (call or text 988) and the Crisis Text Line number (741741) in your phone so they're there if you need them. You can also help make a connection with a trusted individual like a family member, friend, spiritual advisor, or mental health professional.
- STAY CONNECTED: Staying in touch after a crisis or after being discharged from care can make a difference. Studies have shown the number of suicide deaths goes down when someone follows up with the at-risk person.

The world around us can be both positive and negative — bringing joy and sadness, hope and anxiety. Mental Health America's free toolkit provides practical resources, suggestions for making changes to improve and maintain mental well-being, and how to seek help for mental health challenges.

Download the toolkit and take a free mental health screening at MHANATIONAL.ORG/MAY.

LDAF to Host Saddle Microchipping Event May 26 in St. Francisville

The Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry's (LDAF) Livestock Brand Commission will host its next saddle microchipping event Friday, May 26, from 10 A.M. to 3 P.M. It will be held at the LSU AgCenter's West Feliciana office located at 10032 West Feliciana Parkway in St. Francisville, Louisiana.

LDAF's microchip identification program provides all saddle owners in the state of Louisiana the opportunity to have their saddles registered and identified with a microchip implant. If microchipped saddles are ever stolen, the program allows brand officers to confirm ownership and return the property. This service is provided free to the public.

"Saddles are expensive and typically do not have identifiable marks or serial numbers," said LDAF Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M. "This program offers our equine community a solution to that potential problem. It not only assists with the return of saddles in the event they are stolen, it deters saddle theft altogether."

This effort is a joint venture of the Livestock Brand Commission, parish sheriff's offices, other law enforcement agencies, parish cattlemen's associations, and riding clubs.

Should there be any questions, please contact the Livestock Brand Commission at 225-925-3962.

LDAF Seeks Public's Help in Grant Parish Pesticide Vandalism Case

Agents with the Livestock Brand Commission of the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF), in conjunction with the Grant Parish Sheriff's Office, are asking for the public's assistance in an agricultural pesticides vandalism case in Grant Parish.

On April 18, in an agricultural field on the east side of the 700 block of Hwy 158 in Colfax, LA, property workers discovered that someone had tampered with valves on two large pesticide containers on a trailer and spilled the pesticides Glufosinate and Glyphosate on the ground. Some of the pesticides may have been stolen.

The Grant Parish Sheriff's Office requested the assistance of the LDAF Livestock Brand Commission with the investigation into criminal trespass and damage to property which resulted in the loss of pesticides with an estimated value of $17,000. Also, the LDAF Pesticide and Environmental Programs Division is assisting with the cleanup of the spilled pesticides.

"The LDAF's Livestock Brand Commission is committed to holding perpetrators responsible for this kind of senseless vandalism," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Mike Strain, D.V.M. "Not only can their actions create hazards for the environment, but they also contribute to the loss of money, time, and energy for the affected landowner."

Anyone with information about this crime is asked to contact the LDAF Livestock Brand Commission at 1-800-558-9741 or the Grant Parish Sheriff's Office at 318-627-3261. Anonymous reporting can also be done through the Grant Parish Sheriff's Office website at www.grantso.org.

You can remain anonymous and may be eligible for a reward if your tip results in the arrest and conviction of the responsible person(s). The reward is offered by the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation and the Louisiana Cattlemen's Association.

Note: All persons accused of any crime are considered innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

St. Mary Woman Arrested for Forgery

On May 4, 2023, a St. Mary Parish woman was arrested for forgery charges resulting from an investigation conducted by brand inspectors with the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry's (LDAF) Livestock Brand Commission and an arrest warrant issued by St. Mary Parish.

Forty-one-year-old Shanna L. Bryan of Berwick was arrested on a warrant for three counts of forgery. The LDAF's Livestock Brand Commission investigation determined that Bryan allegedly illegally forged and modified three Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA) tests, commonly referred to as "Coggins tests," for the purposes of boarding three horses at a St. Mary Parish boarding facility. As a result of the investigation, the horses were tested and found "negative" for Equine Infectious Anemia.

Bryan turned herself in at the St. Mary Parish Sheriff's Department without incident and was booked on the warrant. At this time, a $5,000 bond has been set.

"There is a reason that EIA tests are required by law; forging their results is a serious crime," said LDAF Commissioner Mike Strain, DVM. "Any duplicitous efforts to jeopardize accurate and honest testing could have a detrimental impact on Louisiana's equine industry, and that's not a chance we are willing to take."

The Livestock Brand Commission was assisted in this investigation by the St. Mary Parish Sheriff's Department.

The Livestock Brand Commission maintains a 24-hour Crimestoppers hotline at (800) 558-9741 for the public to report thefts or other agriculture-related crimes.

Note: All persons accused of any crime are considered innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

FFA is a dynamic, student-led organization for young men and women enrolled in agricultural education courses in middle and high schools. Through participation in FFA, members practice skills in animal and plant sciences, mechanics, business, environmental conservation, and leadership. The Louisiana FFA Association is made up of 11,316 members in 212 chapters in 53 parishes. The association is led by an elected group of student officers and adult advisors.

FFA's three major goals include growing leaders through real-world opportunities, building communities through civic-minded involvement, and strengthening agriculture by providing cutting-edge training to students.

As the keynote speaker for the day's luncheon, I reminded these students that they are our most valuable resource. And as a proud FFA alum, I can honestly say that the skills a young person learns in the program — skills like leadership and camaraderie — will serve them well no matter what they go on to do. We'll undoubtedly need those skills in future generations in order to feed the world.

FFA is an integral part of the agricultural education program. To join the FFA, a student must be enrolled in an agricultural education course in their local school. Students between the ages of 12 and 21 who are enrolled in a systematic course of instruction in agricultural education are eligible for membership. Your local school system must offer agriscience instruction and have an active FFA chapter for you to join.

If your school doesn't have an agricultural education program, there are steps you can take to open a program in your school. If this is something you're interested in, FFA leadership recommends that you contact your state agricultural education staff to express your interest and ask for assistance on regulations, requirements, and resources for planning the new program.

AgCenter Scientist Receives Soybean Fungus Grant

LSU AgCenter plant pathologist Sara Thomas-Sharma has been awarded a U.S. Department of Agriculture National Institute of Food and Agriculture grant to study a common disease of soybeans.

Cercospora leaf blight is a disease that continues to be a problem for soybean farmers in the mid-South, with cost to the industry at more than $250 million over the past five years.

Thomas-Sharma was recently awarded a $300,000, two-year grant that will allow her to look at ways of controlling the disease. She is studying the underlying mechanisms of toxin production and sequestration by the fungus.

Cercospora is more widespread in the South than it is in the Midwest or other larger soybean-producing regions of the U.S.

While Thomas-Sharma's research currently focuses on mid-South growers, Cercospora could become a bigger problem for northern regions in the future, she said.

She plans to answer questions for growers on how to manage Cercospora to better protect their bottom lines.

Thomas-Sharma's AgCenter career began in 2018 after earning her doctorate at the University of Georgia and completing postdoctoral training at Kansas State University and the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Thomas-Sharma's research focuses on ways to improve the management of diseases in field crops, especially soybeans. She is based in Baton Rouge, where she also teaches a general plant pathology course.

LDAF Urges Vigilance During Termite Season

The Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF) Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M., reminds property owners to remain vigilant for termites during late spring and into the coming summer months.

With Louisiana's warm and wet climate this time of year, termites can get especially active as they constantly seek out new food sources.

"Turning off outside lights at night or using yellow bulbs can help you avoid attracting swarming termites," says Commissioner Strain. "However, there are also other proactive measures you can take on a regular basis to protect your property from the destruction of termites."

- Fix any leaks in the roof, pipes, and outside faucets on your home.
- Repair rotting wood on the fascia, soffit, and exterior wood surfaces.
- Remove any wood lying under or around your home, and store firewood away from your home.

- Examine your home's slab line and the base of piers for signs of termites.
- Clean the gutters on your home and repair sections that may be damaged.
- Trim tree limbs and vines that may be growing on your home.
- Drain water away from the slab or under your home; do not let it pool.

Treatments and annual inspections by a licensed, insured, and bonded pest control company are a good termite preventative. Between professional inspections, property owners can also look for mud tubes on slabs, piers, or walls; pinholes in wallboards; softness in flooring; or blisters in paint or wallpaper.

To find out which companies are certified and licensed to perform termite-related services, consumers can contact the LDAF at 225-925-4578, visit the LDAF website at www.ldaf.la.gov, or download the LDAF Business Search App (available in the Apple and Google Play store).
