Gray's Clinical Photographic Dissector of the Human Body, 3rd South Asia Edition

By Marios Loukas, R. Shane Tubbs
South Asia Edition Adaptation Editors:
Raveendranath Veeramani • Nachiket Shankar
ISBN: 9788131269824 | Pub Year: 2025 | INR 1820.00

Dissection, diagnosis, and beyond

- Curriculum-integrated learning: Chapters begin with mapped competencies as per the graduate medical education regulations 2024, ensuring full alignment with the latest nmc guidelines.
- Hands-on dissection made: Easy step-by-step structured dissection tables and level-based structure identification (level 1: must-identify, level 2: good-to-identify, level 3: nice-to-identify) guide students through focused, efficient learning.
- Strong visual and self-assessment support: High-quality dissection photographs with labeled priority structures, along with identification checklists and figures for self-assessment, strengthen retention.
- Bridging anatomy with practice clinical: Application tables summarize anatomical concepts with real-world medical relevance, building a strong foundation for clinical understanding.

Textbook of Clinical Anatomy: Osteology, Radiology & Surface Marking

By Rose Xaviour, Sheetal Joshi

ISBN: 9788131268872 | Pub Year: 2025 | INR 695.00

Smart anatomy guide

- Utilizes real bone images to enhance practical understanding and application
- Combines elements of both atlas and textbook with real bone images for practical learning.
- Case-based scenarios offer early clinical exposure to real-world medical scenarios.
- Schematic diagrams and clinical photos enhance concept visualization.
- Features “Brain Teasers” with solved MCQs for self-assessment, including various question formats suited for national and international postgraduate exams.

This book serves as a valuable learning aid for undergraduate students (MBBS and BDS), postgraduates, and individuals preparing for competitive exams in various specialties (MD, DNB, MS, FRCS, MRCP, DM, Mch).

Structural aberrations

Cri-du-chat syndrome

Cri-du-chat syndrome or 5p-: this results from the deletion of the short arm of chromosome 5. It was first described by lejeune and his associates. It is called cri-du-chat syndrome because the cry of affected baby mimics meowing of a cat.

Jacobsen syndrome

Jacobsen syndrome was described by the danish geneticist petrea jacobsoen in 1973. It is caused by deletion of long arm of chromosome 11. It is also called 11q terminal deletion disorder (fig. 4.4).

Williams syndrome

Williams syndrome (ws) refers to a multisystem disorder presenting with aortic stenosis (elastin arteriopathy), delayed milestones and mild mental retardation with learning disorders. The babies have feeding problems and incurving of little finger (fig. 4.5).
