백과사전

우리는 대부분 저널에 실린 글을 통해 학문적 문헌을 접하게 됩니다. 하지만 연구자는 학제적 연구를 통해 새로운 주제 영역을 발견함과 동시에 기반이 되는 지식에 접할 수 있는 권위있는 수단이 필요합니다. MRWs는 이에 도움을 줄 수 있습니다. 연구자와 학생들이 새로운 분야와 학제적 연구에 필요한 지식과 신뢰를 구축할 수 있는 기반 지식을 제공하기 때문입니다.

James Wright

James D. Wright received his bachelor's degree in philosophy from Purdue University in 1969, a master's degree in sociology from the University of Wisconsin in 1970, and his PhD in sociology from Wisconsin in 1973. His first academic appointment was at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, where he was promoted to Associate Professor in 1976 and to Full Professor in 1979. Most of his fifteen years at Massachusetts were spent as Director, Associate Director or Director of Research in the Social and Demographic Institute.

Wright left Massachusetts for Tulane University in New Orleans in 1988 where he served as the Charles and Leo Favrot Professor of Human Relations in Tulane's Department of Sociology. He also enjoyed a courtesy appointment in the Tulane School of Public Health, Department of Biostatistics and Epidemiology. He left Tulane in 2001 to become the Provost's Distinguished Research Professor of Sociology at the University of Central Florida. In 2003, he was named as the Director of the University's Institute for Social and Behavioral Science and in 2013 was designated as a UCF Pegasus Professor, the University's highest faculty honor.

Wright was the Editor in Chief of the scholarly journal Social Science Research from 1978 until 2014. His previous editing experience also includes a twenty-year stint as editor of the Aldine de Gruyter book series Social Institutions and Social Change, two editions of the Handbook of Survey Research (Academic Press, 1983; Emerald Publishing, 2010), and service on the editorial boards of numerous journals. He is the author of 21 books and scholarly monographs on topics ranging from homelessness to research methods to NASCAR, and he has published more than 300 journal articles, book chapters, reviews, essays and polemics. Wright lives with his wife Christine Stewart and their multiple dogs and cats in Winter Springs, Florida, where in his spare time he likes to cook fancy meals for large crowds.
